FARM BILL PASSES, 93-2

—GOP Leader Talks Of Farm Bill— Halleck Slashes At 'Demo Delay'

Says Amendments Tempt Ike Veto;
Measure 'Should Not Be Partisan'

By ELLIS RALL
Star Staff Writer

Rep. Charles A. Halleck (R-Ind) blamed the "jockeying" of Democrats for position as the prime reason for the "inexcusable" delay on the farm bill. He hurled the accusation to some 1,600 persons attending the GOP Founders' Day dinner Monday night at the University of Nebraska coliseum.

He charged that the Democrats were "loading" the bill to tempt the vetoing of it by the President.

"If it (farm bill) gets loaded too much, he (President Eisenhower) wouldn't hesitate to veto it and say why," the Indiana representative said.

Amid predictions that the President would veto the bill Monday evening passed the farm bill while the Founder's Day speaker in Lincoln blasted the prolonged delay.

Halleck said he was "disappointed at the lack of co-operation on the part of the Democrats." The bill should not be a partisan matter, he added.

At a press conference earlier in the day, Halleck, a substitute speaker for Vice President Nixon, also predicted that the Republican party will choose the Eisenhower-Nixon team for the general election.

Nixon was unable to keep the engagement because of the crucial stage of the controversial farm bill. He said he first made that prediction last October.

"I still stand on that," he said.

'Aggressive' Campaign
The fiery Hoosier Monday night predicted that Eisenhower "will make an aggressive campaign" even though he doesn't have to. "His record is written," Halleck told the crowd. "He'll get out and around to see a lot of people."

"President Eisenhower has given this country the greatest leadership in our time. Nothing but his sense of duty caused him to run again," Halleck said.

The estimated attendance, somewhere between 1,550 and 1,650, broke all previous records for Founder's Day activities, Joseph W. Wishart said.

The chicken dinners, being served instead of beef, were exhausted long before the overwhelming crowd was fed. Huge hams were rushed in and the remainder were served ham sandwich tray lunches.

Caterers served 1,450 chicken dinners and over 200 ham sandwich trays before the speeches got underway. Organizers had only planned on serving 1,200 dinners.

Halleck praised the Republican administration for bringing peace, forming a consistent foreign policy, prosperity, less governmental spending, providing a strong defense and giving states' rights back to the states.

"Americans today have faith in their government under the leadership of Dwight D. Eisenhower. They have faith in its honesty, integrity and its genuine concern for human problems," Halleck said.

He added that the faith exists because the Republicans have kept the promises that were made in 1952 to "restore time-honored principles and policies to the American scene."

"Republicans lost control of the Congress in 1954," he said, "because they didn't get their story of achievement across to the voter."

'Inexcusable'
Commenting on the bill, Halleck said it is "inexcusable" how action on the measure has "been dragged out."

The bill's essential features, he added, if they are going to mean anything to the farmer this year, must be accepted immediately.

He cited two reasons why the bill has been delayed.

(1) It is the Democrats' responsibility, as leaders of the Senate, to move quickly.

(2) The Democrats have not pushed the bill as rapidly as they should have.

Delay 'Jockeying'
A large part of the delay, he thought, can be blamed on the Democrats "jockeying" for position on their part. He charged that Democrats were "loading" the bill to tempt the vetoing of it by the President.

At a press conference Monday afternoon he commented that he favored the present foreign aid program.

Wheat, Corn And Cotton Price Supports Boosted By Senate

—Primary Today— Demo Test Ready

Adlai, Estes Could
Both Claim Win
In Minnesota

By Douglas B. Cornell

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Claims and counterclaims from Democratic rivals cracked through last minute political skirmishing in advance of Minnesota's vital presidential primary Tuesday.

Adlai E. Stevenson said he would be satisfied with 60 or even 55 per cent of the Democratic vote. Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee figures 30 per cent would add up to victory for him—but that he will "do much better than that."

What will happen Tuesday is a guess. Each man might claim to be a winner on the basis of identical figures.

The state's 3,368 polling places open at 8 a.m. and close at 9 p.m. No returns are counted until the closing hour. The Weather Bureau expects the skies to be partly cloudy with temperatures ranging up to 32 to 40 degrees.

No Prediction

Stevenson was here on the scene Monday, working his way through a series of rallies, meetings, television appearances and a news conference. He wasn't making any definite election predictions.

But in one interview filmed for TV, the former Illinois governor said:

"If anyone can win by 60 per cent he would be very satisfied."

He noted that President Eisenhower beat him in the 1952 general election with 55 per cent of the total vote. He said the press called that a landslide so he would be "very content if I got that much."

'Too Bad'

Asked about the "boss issue" in his campaign with Kefauver, Stevenson replied:

"It's too bad he injected that into the campaign, charging Gov. Freeman and Sen. Humphrey with boss tactics because they saw fit to endorse me."

Kefauver was back in Washington for the tussle over the farm bill. He repeated there that he has been on the upgrade in Minnesota for a week and that he has a good chance of carrying four or five of the state's nine congressional districts. Each district has two national convention votes.

No Contest

In effect, it's no contest for President Eisenhower in the Republican primary. Sen. William F. Knowland of California was put on the ballot before the President bid for another term. But he is backing Eisenhower and making no attempt to collect votes.

What the GOP is trying to do is roll up a bigger vote for Eisenhower than the spectacular 108,000 he pulled on a write-in basis in 1952.

Spring's Coming To Be Typical

Spring officially begins Tuesday morning, and it appeared the weather would oblige by being warm and possibly showery.

Partly cloudy skies, with occasional light rain in the southeast Tuesday night, and warmer temperatures were expected. Highs were to be in the 50s in the northeast and 60s southwest.

Winds were also in the Tuesday forecast.

Spring's stay was expected to be short, as the Wednesday forecast called for cold and cloudy weather.

Monday was sunny and fairly warm, with the highest reading reported 63 at Scottsbluff. Chadron also had a temperature in the 60s, 62. Lincoln's high was 44. Overcast lows fell as low as 14 at Norfolk, and 19 at Lincoln.

Sponsor Last Minute Change

Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) (left) and Sen. Milton R. Young (R-ND) happily congratulate each other outside the Senate chamber in Washington Monday night after successfully sponsoring a farm bill amendment boosting price supports for wheat, cotton and corn. The Senate adopted the last minute change which would "isolate" vast surpluses of the three crops which are now taken into account in figuring parity prices and thus force price levels down. (AP Wirephoto.)

Miss Truman Will Wed April 21 In Independence ... She Announces Plans In N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—Margaret Truman said Monday she will be married at 4 p.m. April 21 in Trinity Episcopal Church at Independence, Mo.

The daughter of former President Harry Truman told newsmen her marriage to newspaperman Clifton Daniel will be "a very simple ceremony."

Miss Truman made her announcement at a news conference in her hotel Carlyle suite. She met newsmen without her fiancé.

She said she would have two matrons of honor and no bridesmaids. She had predicted recently that she'd have a hard time finding an unmarried friend to take part in her wedding.

The matrons of honor will be Mrs. John E. Horton, Los Angeles, the former Drucie Snyder and a daughter of the former secretary of the Treasury John Snyder; and Mrs. Coleman Branton, Kansas City, Mo., the former Mary Shaw.

Miss Truman said Daniel would have "old friends" to act as best man and two ushers, but she could not announce their names yet.

No Plans

As for the honeymoon, Miss Truman said the plans have "not exactly been made," adding:

"It's up to Mr. Daniel."

She said her parents were married in the same church, and her marriage would make it "two and two"—her bride-groom-to-be and her father are Baptists and she and her mother are Episcopalians.

Daniel, 43, assistant foreign news editor of the New York Times, is the son of a druggist at Zebulon, N.C.

Miss Truman, 32, said her wedding dress will be street length, made of beige—"my favorite color"—lace and tulle, and will be designed by Nicole Fontana of Italy.

Headquarters Raided
ARAI, Japan (AP)—Police raided headquarters of the New Divine Way Curing Cult. They said its leader went too far in following the ideas of Pierre Poujade, the French tax rebellion leader. There were no arrests but police confiscated large quantities of printed matter advising members and prospects they should not pay taxes.

MARY AND MARTHA Stories From The Life Of Jesus

(The thirtieth chapter of The Star's Lenten series.)

"Lord, don't You even care that my sister has left me alone to serve? Tell her to help me!"

By
APRIL OURSLER ARMSTRONG

Three friends Jesus had, aside from His disciples, whom He loved very dearly. There was Martha, and her sister Mary, and their brother Lazarus, who lived in the town called Bethany.

It would be hard to find three people more different than these. Lazarus was a hard-working man, but a quiet one, the kind who listens but seldom speaks, who does his good deeds in secret, and never complains of what others do to him. He liked to garden in his spare time, and to make flowers bloom, and he knew how best to prune trees and train vines. He liked the feel and the smell of growing things.

Mary was a thoughtful and dreaming girl, with a mind that was hungry to learn. She was neat and clean, yet admitted, and pretty in her own way, but why was she forever worrying her head about things that didn't concern her? Better that she would learn to sew a fine seam, or to bake a rich cake, and busy herself at home, instead of mooning over thoughts that were too big for her! And Mary, when she heard them speak, only bent her head and smiled.

Now Martha was just the opposite. Martha was the busiest housewife in Bethany—and the most respected. Three people, so different, yet Jesus loved them all, equally, which is of course one of the happiest secrets about the Lord.

One day Jesus came to stop at their home. In the cool shadows of the afternoon He sat in the doorway. (Continued on Page Four.)

Plan To 'Isolate' Vast Crop Surpluses Approved; Veto Predictions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate passed its mammoth election-year farm bill Monday night amid predictions that it will be vetoed by President Eisenhower if it reaches him in its present form.

The measure contains billions of dollars in new benefits for the farmers, whose incomes have been falling off for five years.

But it also carries features which are repugnant to the administration, running counter to the agricultural policy Eisenhower has fought for since 1953.

The final vote was 93 to 2. Sens. Bush (R-Conn) and Flinders (R-Vt) voted no.

The bill now goes back to the House, where an uncertain fate awaits it. If the House agrees, a Senate-House conference committee will be appointed to try to compromise vast and fundamental differences in the legislation passed by the Senate Monday night and that approved by the House last May 16.

Both Democrats and Republicans have struggled to build a bill on which they can campaign for the potent farm vote this fall. But apparently a legislative version which can be placed on Eisenhower's desk is still many battles away.

The President has asked for the utmost speed in completing a comprehensive farm bill, pointing out that the planting season is almost here—and has even started in the South.

Speed Need Stressed
This need for speed may help to solve some of the big differences between House and Senate. The major problem is the House vote to return to the World War II system of supporting basic crops rigidly at 90 per cent of parity.

The administration favors a flexible system under which they can be supported from 75 to 90 per cent, according to supply conditions.

Parity prices are determined under formulas designed to be fair to the farmer in relation to his production and living costs.

Debated Nearly a Month
The Senate floor debate on the farm bill lasted almost a month. It began Feb. 22, and voting on amendments started March 8.

More than 100 amendments were introduced and about 65 were acted on. About 40 were adopted.

During the long Senate debate administration supporters succeeded in stripping out provisions, approved by the Agriculture Committee, to restore rigid supports on cotton, corn and peanuts by a 54-41 margin.

And then they knocked out special supports for quality milling wheat by the narrow margin (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Sens. Hruska and Curtis, Nebraska Republicans, voted with the majority when the Senate adopted, 48 to 46, a farm bill amendment by Sen. Holland (D-Fla), which would deny price supports, effective in 1957, to most farmers if they fail to participate in the soil bank program.

Curtis and Hruska voted with the minority as the Senate passed, 50-41, an amendment to boost price support levels for wheat, cotton and corn by putting large quantities of those surplus commodities into a mandatory government "set-aside."

Less than an hour before the Senate voted on the complex and controversial bill, Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) stated flatly there was enough material in it to warrant a veto—"perhaps three or four vetoes."

Aiken was the administration's spokesman during the long debate on the bill.

Strong Criticism
In its present form, he told the Senate, it would "demoralize our farm economy."

"It would be better to continue under the present law than to adopt the tortured and battered bill which is now before us," Aiken declared.

"This bill has been emasculated beyond any visible resemblance to the program recommended by the President."

Knowland Hopeful
But, in one of the closing speeches, Minority Leader Knowland (R-Calif) expressed hope that

Boy 'Bathes' Baby With Hot Water; She's Found Dead
OMAHA (AP)—Two month-old Yvette Butler was found dead Monday in a sink at her home. Hot water was running over her face.

Deputy County Coroner John Clark said a five year old boy, whom he did not name, had admitted putting the girl in the sink "to give her a bath."

When Yvette collapsed the boy ran to his own home to tell his mother he heard water running at the Butler home. The mother took the child from the sink but the tot had died, either of drowning or of hot water scalding, Clark said.

Yvette was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Butler and had been left, Mrs. Butler said, resting on a davenport while she went to a store.

East Reels Under Wild, Pre-Spring Blizzard

125 Are Dead In Storm

... 23 Inches Of Snow

By The Associated Press
The second paralyzing blizzard in 48 hours swept northward over the eastern seaboard Monday night. On the eve of spring, it smothered most normal activities with up to 23 inches of snow.

Nature's double-fisted assault hit a 14-state area. At least 125 storm-connected deaths were counted. Most of these were in traffic accidents or caused by heart attacks brought on by snow-shoveling.

By states, the death totals were: New York 30; New Jersey 23; Connecticut 11; Rhode Island 10; Massachusetts 18; New Hampshire 1; Maine 5; Pennsylvania 7; Delaware 1; Maryland 3; Virginia 4, Ohio 12, Vermont, West Virginia and the District of Columbia also were hit by the storm but reported no deaths.

In New Jersey's rural counties and on eastern Long Island gale winds lashed the snow into 12-foot drifts. Some communities were virtually isolated for the weekend. A state of emergency was declared in some communities and counties.

Worst Since 1947

The double-header storm, worst in the East since 1947, began to peter out, however, in New York and the lower tier of states late Monday night.

But as it raged north along the jagged New England coast it began to deal heavy blows to coastal New Hampshire and Maine. The snowfall was expected to continue to midday Tuesday there.

The first blizzard whistled up from the South Friday night. Hardly had householders from Virginia to New England dug out their driveways when the second howler destroyed their efforts.

In hamlet and city alike, transportation was paralyzed.

Like Country Lanes

New York's checkerboard of streets and avenues took on the aspect of country lanes.

Great railroad networks reported some delays, but only a few small lines were knocked out. Bus routes were harder to keep open.

Cape Cod, sticking out in the path of the storms like a mammoth crooked finger, suffered the brunt of both storms. More than 100 persons were evacuated at Barnstable because of high tides. The islands of Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket were cut off from the mainland.

Coty To Attend

PARIS (AP) — France's President Rene Coty will head a delegation of government officials at the state funeral for Mrs. Irene Joliot-Curie on Wednesday, it was announced.

"I thought you were going to wear a costume to this party, Wilbert."

when Vice President Nixon decided a 45-45 tie vote.

These key victories were dimmed later when wheat state Republicans and Democrats teamed up to approve a "domestic parity" wheat program that promises 100 per cent of parity prices to farmers for that part of their crop consumed as domestic food.

The rest of future wheat crops would be supported at a price slightly above supports for corn and other feed grains, or put into exports.

Not Until 1957

This program could not operate until the 1957 crop and then only if approved by a vote of two-thirds of the commercial wheat growers and the secretary of agriculture.

An effort to apply the same program to cotton was beaten 57-33.

Special inducements were offered to corn and feed grain farmers to participate in the acreage reserve of the soil bank plan.

The acreage allotment for corn was raised 8 millions to 51 million acres this year, and feed grains, oats, barley, rye and grain sorghums, were given price supports based on that for corn.

The new "set-aside" amendment, sponsored by Sens. Humphrey (D-Minn.) and Young (R-ND), would require much higher support levels than are possible under the present flexible system.

It would do this by removing large quantities of the three commodities from the computation of support prices, which are driven downward when the commodity in question is in surplus.

Sponsors of the amendment estimated it would mean about 90 per cent supports for cotton, for which Secretary of Agriculture Benson was promised 86 or 87 per cent supports this year; about 87 per cent for corn, for which an 81 per cent price support level has been announced by the government; and about 85 per cent for wheat, now supported at a 76 per cent level.

Big Foreign Aid Hike Asked By Ike

... Also Long-Range Authority

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower asked Congress Monday for $4,859,975,000 in new foreign aid money, and authority to make long-range aid commitments.

He may have to settle for less. Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), the GOP leader in the Senate, frowned on the long-range idea. Chairman Richards (D-SC) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, talked of cutting the money request.

Eisenhower anticipated objections to the size of the sum, which compares with $2,700,000,000 Congress appropriated for the current fiscal year ending June 30. He stressed that "the need is urgent" and emphasized that Russia is still a menace to the world.

"In Asia and the Middle East," Eisenhower's message to Congress said, "serious risk of aggression still exists."

For that part of the world, he asked $1,640,000,000 in military assistance. He put the over-all military total at three billion dollars, including a new $530,000,000 plan for getting advanced missiles and other weapons into Allied hands.

The message also, as expected, asked for presidential authority to make commitments up to 10 years to "assist less developed countries in long term projects important to their development."

Congress traditionally prefers to handle foreign aid on a year-to-year basis and this long-range request, as well as the amount of money, appeared headed for trouble.

Eisenhower said funds for the long-range commitments "would come from appropriations for non-military mutual security, and would not exceed an aggregate of 100 million dollars in any year."

Thus the total over 10 years could amount to an even billion dollars.

Trenton Monument Move Is Passed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate took time out from its debate of farm legislation Monday to act on a number of varied measures. Among the bills approved and sent to the President was a proposal to:

Pay $3,000 for the cost of moving the Trenton Massacre Canyon Monument in Nebraska.

The monument, a 350-foot granite shaft commemorating the last battle between Indian tribes—the Sioux-Pawnee fight of 1873—has to be moved because of construction of Trenton Dam. It will go up on the new route of U.S. 34, also being relocated because of the dam.

Davis Chances For McKay Job Keep Growing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Undersecretary Clarence A. Davis of Lincoln was reported Monday as the likely successor to Secretary of the Interior McKay.

McKay plans to resign to seek the Republican nomination for the senate seat held by Sen. Morse, Oregon Democrat.

There were reports he planned to step out April 20 to start his campaign. McKay, who is in the Virgin Islands, told reporters he expects to resign May 1.

The Oregon primary will be held May 18.

At the White House, Press Secretary James C. Hagerty was asked about another report, that former Kentucky Sen. John Sherman Cooper, now Ambassador to India, is being mentioned in high Republican circles to succeed McKay. Hagerty said "that's one I never heard of."

There was definitely strong backing for Davis.

Davis, former solicitor for the Interior Department, has been a policy-making member of the McKay team since early in 1953. He formerly was an attorney general of Nebraska.

Dan Thornton, former Colorado governor and now a presidential assistant, also has been widely mentioned for the job. However, advocates of the appointment of Davis point out that Thornton was widely pushed for the place in 1952, when McKay was chosen.

They say appointment of Thornton as secretary could be regarded politically as a slap at McKay.

Mrs. Ellen Staats Dies At Hospital

Mrs. Ellen Mae Staats, 79, of 220 No. 29th, died at a local hospital Monday evening.

She had lived in Lincoln for 45 years.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Frances Nolin of Imlay City, Mich.; Mrs. James P. Barouch of Lincoln; and Mrs. Adele Nossow of Philadelphia, Pa.; and a son, Arthur W. of Lincoln.

Russ Pay For Plane Shot Down

... U.S. Craft

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia has paid the United States $724,947—half the costs involved—for shooting down a Navy patrol bomber in the Bering Sea last June 22, the State Department disclosed Monday.

That was the amount for which the Soviet Union was billed after Secretary of State Dulles agreed to accept Russia's offer.

Lincoln White, State Department press officer, said this was the first time Russia or any of its satellites ever had paid for planes knocked down or damaged in various incidents since World War II. The United States has tried unsuccessfully to get compensation in several other cases.

A Soviet note delivered by the Embassy here last Saturday enclosed the $724,947 check but insisted, as the Russians have all along, that the American plane had violated Soviet frontiers.

Not Over Russian Soil

The United States, in prodding the Russians for payment in January, said a careful investigation showed that the two-engine Neptune was attacked near St. Lawrence Island, at least 24 nautical miles from the nearest Soviet land. This is midway between Alaska and Russia.

Seven of the plane's 11 crewmen burned or injured when it went down last June 24. The other four were unhurt. The plane crash-landed in flames on the beach of St. Lawrence Island.

The agreement on payment of half the costs was worked out between Dulles and Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov while they were in San Francisco for the 10th anniversary conference of the United Nations last June.

100 Hurt As Liner Buffeted

... Storm In Atlantic

SOUTHAMPTON, England (INS) — One hundred passengers and crew members aboard the Queen Mary Monday were reported injured when a 70-mile-an-hour gale buffeted the big liner in the Atlantic.

The storm hit the 81,237 ton vessel on the second and third days out of New York.

Six passengers were hospitalized at Southampton and two at Cherbourg.

Passengers said they were flung from chairs in salons and dining rooms and crockery was smashed as the ship tossed in the storm.

Social functions had to be canceled.

James Millar, of Amherst, Mass., landed at Southampton with a black eye and his right arm in a sling.

Millar said he and his wife, Florence, were seated when the 975-foot-long Cunard liner suddenly rolled and flung their chairs about 15 feet.

Preble Charges Ike Neglected T-H Promises

Neither President Eisenhower nor his administration have made any efforts to repeal those sections of the Taft-Hartley Labor Law which the President, before his election, said would be repealed, members of the Lancaster County Democrats were told Monday evening.

Gordon Preble of Omaha, president of the Nebraska Federation of Labor, said he was present at the AF of L national convention in New York City at which Presidential Candidate Eisenhower said the "union-busting sections" of the T-H Law would be repealed.

"We've been promised too many things by the Republican Party we didn't get," Preble stated. He went on to say that the Lancaster County Democrats "is a sick organization."

"The Democratic Party is sound asleep in the state of Nebraska," he charged. "It takes a lot of work and a lot of money to deliver in politics." He said the party is expected, however, to "keep it clean" in getting money.

Preble stressed that organized labor "must remain non-partisan." If unions "lean 80 per cent in one direction," it's because of unfair legislation detrimental to labor, he stated.

"We are duty-bound to endorse our own best interests," Preble added.

James Delehan, president of the Lincoln Federation, also spoke briefly. Joseph Ginsburg, chairman of the Lancaster County Democrats, presided.

Sen. Williams To Ask Probe Of $70,000 Gift Offer

$1 Million Tax Case Is Cited

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Williams (R-Del.) said Monday he is asking for a Senate investigation of an alleged $70,000 gift offer to the 1948 Democratic campaign fund by a man trying to quash "a one-million-dollar tax case."

"It is alleged," Williams said in a Senate speech based on a series of articles by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, "that the finance director of the Democratic National Committee, Mr. S. Acey Carraway, to whom the offer was made, did intercede with the Department of Justice in an attempt to stop prosecution."

He did not say whether the attempt was successful.

Williams told a reporter later he was asking the special committee on lobbying and campaign contributions, headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), to go "fully" into the case.

Mitchell

He said the Post-Dispatch stories described the $70,000 offer as having come from Joseph Mitchell, business man of Mobile, Ala., and St. Louis, Mo. The money was said to have been needed by the Democratic committee to pay for two national broadcasts by former President Truman late in the 1948 presidential campaign.

Mitchell was quoted in the stories as denying he ever made any contribution to the Democratic National Committee. Carraway was quoted as saying that if the alleged contribution ever went into the committee funds, it did not go through him.

In addition to the $70,000 offer, the Post-Dispatch stories also reported, Williams told the Senate, that:

1. Carraway "received a $5,000 gift under the guise of a loan" from the Jefferson Loan Co. of St. Louis, Mo., owned by Mitchell. Carraway was quoted as describing this as a loan having nothing to do with the tax case.

Mink Coat

2. The wife of a "prominent political figure who likewise was intervening in this case" received a $2,500 ranch mink coat bought by an official of the Jefferson Loan Co.

The politician was not named, but at another point in his speech where he apparently referred to the same person, Williams described him as a congressman.

Williams told the Senate:

"In these same articles there is a denial by Mr. Mitchell that he gave the committee any money... Carraway does not deny the offer's having been made, but he does say that he refused to accept the donation after being informed by former Asst. Atty. Gen. T. Lamar Caudle that Mr. Mitchell was having income tax trouble..."

"There seems to be no denial, however, that this $70,000 offer of a campaign contribution to the Democratic National Committee was made by a man at a time when he was being charged with a large tax deficiency and that it was made through an official of the Democratic National Committee or a member of Congress, both of whom were being asked to intervene, and who did intervene, in his case."

"Unquestionably, this raises serious questions of propriety..."

15-Year-Olds Lectured For Hazing Incident

Stern lectures and temporary probation were handed out to a pair of 15-year-old boys who admitted a minor hazing of two younger boys.

The incident took place in Irvingdale Park.

One boy, 9, said his feet were tied together with a rope and the rope pulled over a bar to lift his feet off the ground. His nose was ground in the dirt. The other boy was 11.

Juvenile authorities said the incident was minor and that the younger boys incited the incident.

'Eventual' Increase Predicted For Production At Elgin Plant

Immediate prospects for the Lincoln plant of the Edgin Watch Co. appeared Monday to include a short term drop in production and, due to a contract for defense goods, an eventual increase.

In an interview with The Star, James G. Shennan, president of the firm, denied reports that the firm might close its Lincoln plant and said it expected "some decline in production."

According to a joint statement, issued Monday by Mayor Clark Jeary and Wheaton Battey, chairman of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce Expansion committee, the "Elgin plant is not going to leave Lincoln" and because of more dollar volume of work there is a "small increase in employment expected within a year."

The question of the prospects of the Lincoln Elgin plant began with comment Sen. Dirksen (D-Ill.) made elaborating on an attitude held by an official within the Department of Defense which the senator said "conveyed the definite impression that the Defense Department was not concerned with the possible shutdown and disposal of the Lincoln plant."

At a press conference in Washington Monday Dirksen said he did not intend to imply a shutdown was imminent. He said that the American jeweled-watch industry should not have to depend for survival on defense contracts. He favored what he called a protective tariff enabling the industry to "stand on its own feet."

Mexican Juvenile Judge Emphasizes Rehabilitation Instead Of Punishment

Mexican juvenile court judge Augusto H. Burgos said in Lincoln Monday he is a strong believer in emphasizing rehabilitation rather than punishment.

Judge Burgos, who heads the only juvenile court in Merida, Mexico, is touring this country studying American methods of dealing with juvenile problems. Merida, located on the Yucatan Peninsula, is about the size of Lincoln and is the fifth largest city in Mexico.

The Mexican judge said he was greatly encouraged to find District Judges Harry Spencer and Paul White also place strong emphasis on rehabilitation of juvenile offenders. He declined to compare Mexican crime types and rates with those in the United States, saying that he wished to discuss only the positive aspects of juvenile problems.

Judge Burgos said there is no appeal from the decisions of a Mexican juvenile court judge. But he said many persons in his community do not share his belief in the importance of rehabilitation of youthful offenders. He said some feel revenge is more important than rehabilitation.

Judge White told him "a lot of

Another 15 Tests For Water Okayed

Approval has been given by the City Council to spend another $1,000 to drill 15 additional test wells in Lincoln's water well field near Ashland.

Layne-Western Co. of Omaha, which has just completed 15 tests, will continue their work. The first tests, according to Public Works Director D. L. Erickson, have not been conclusive as to depth and quality of water.

A wider area will be covered in the 15 new tests, he said. The tests are being made on the west side of the Platte River north of the National Guard Camp east of Ashland.

City Hall Employees In On CD Evacuation

The City Council has approved participation by City Hall employees in a June 18 civil defense evacuation test.

County Courthouse employees will also be asked to take part in the test. City and county employees will evacuate the city over designated evacuation routes.

The Lincoln activities will be part of a national evacuation test program to be held that day.

Man Pleads Guilty In Aluminum Theft

A 36-year-old Lincoln man pleaded guilty to charges of petty larceny in County Court and was fined $10 and costs by Judge Herbert Ronin.

Grazier Garrett, 2824 R, pleaded guilty to the theft of 23 pounds of aluminum castings.

Broader Farm Needs Cited By Marshall

Needs of American agriculture are much broader than the price support program, Charles Marshall, president of the Nebraska State Farm Bureau said at a Denton meeting Monday evening.

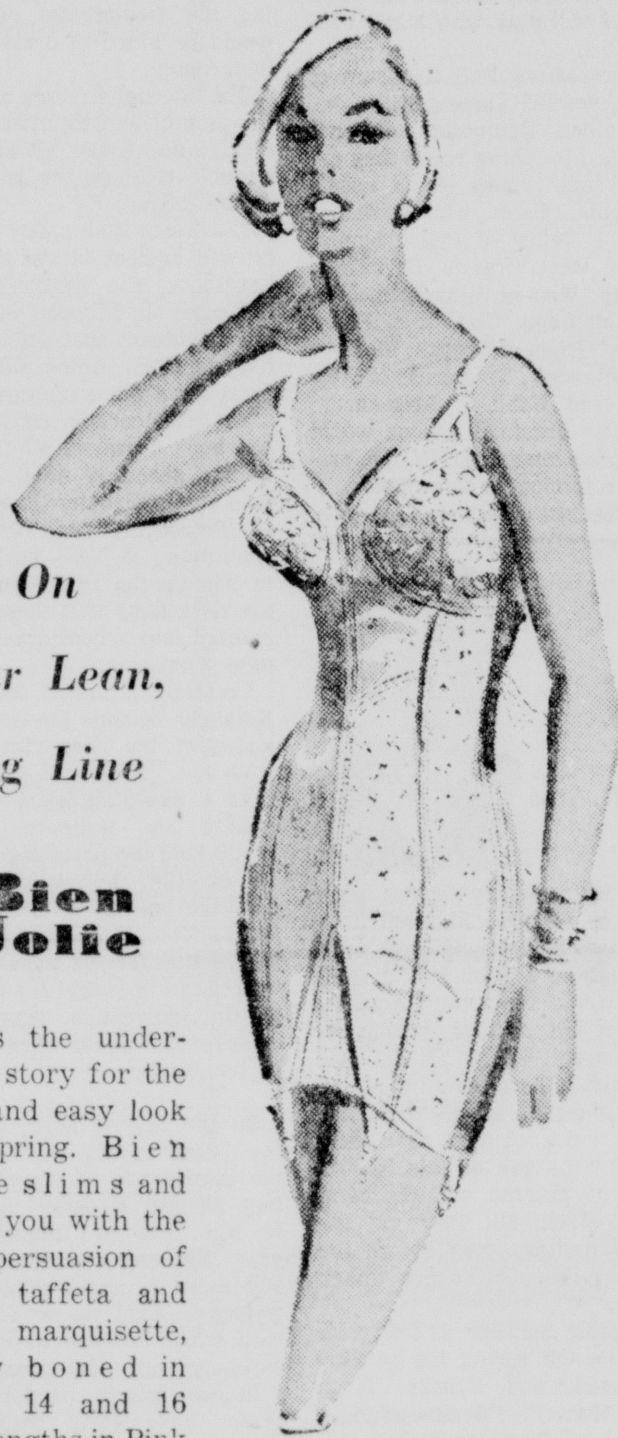

The net spendable income of agriculture, in terms of purchasing power, was the highest ever in 1947, he said. In 1954 the gross was nearly the same, but the net dropped nearly $5 billion from the all-time '47 high, said Marshall. This was during the time that 90 per cent supports were in full effect.

"We need to look somewhere else in addition to a price support program. We've put too much time into talking about this alone," Marshall said.

The Farm Bureau, he said, is in favor of the soil bank plan. He added, however, that in its current state the plan is becoming so complicated in Congress that it includes many items only slightly related to the original soil bank proposal and it is difficult to fully understand.

Study Of Figures

There was little question in anybody's mind but that Oregon's Independent Senator Wayne Morse and its former governor Douglas McKay, who has occupied a cabinet post in the Eisenhower administration, would fight it out next fall for a seat in the United States Senate.

Morse has only taken opposition in the Oregon Democratic primary while McKay, facing possible stiffer competition, nevertheless is expected to win the Republican nomination rather handily.

They speak of Oregon as a normally dependable Republican state, which is what Sec. McKay and his friends are relying upon chiefly. Actually there is very little difference in the registration—404,812 Republicans on the rolls for the 1954 general election compared to 402,322 Democrats. What people living beyond Oregon's borders do not recognize is that originally Wayne Morse was in Eisenhower's camp. He was one of the first men in Oregon of distinguished political prominence to file as an Eisenhower delegate to the 1952 Republican National Convention.

Morse, as will be recalled, bolted the Republican ticket to support Stevenson. Since then Sen. Morse and Sec. McKay, who was also an Eisenhower delegate in 1952, have not been on speaking terms. There is no love lost between the two men. Their battle next fall could be a hum-dinger.

Two Forces Stilled

The week end removed two notable figures from the American scene — Fred Allen, the comedian, and Louis Bromfield, the writer.

Allen, 61, a household word first in vaudeville, then and for a long time on radio, and later, somewhat reluctantly, on television, collapsed and died unexpectedly of a heart ailment. Bromfield, 59, succumbed from another ailment after a relatively brief illness. Significantly both who had served their generation so long left the scene at the high level of their intellectual maturity, perhaps at a point where they had yet to deliver even greater service.

The molding of the thought and spirit of a generation is achieved from a variety of forces. In that and from unrelated directions both played a part—Allen, the subtle, sometimes the satirical, corrected the public sense of values through the channel of humor—Bromfield, the writer, first through the medium of powerful fiction, later as a man dedicated to scientific agriculture and as a writer of the conservative philosophy of private, free enterprising farming.

One can estimate the good they did according to his own persuasions but all can agree that they were effective, dedicated and wholesome men, free speaking in the best American tradition—examples of the true spirit of freedom by which we are all permitted to be matured into something more than kept minded followers of one authority and one concept. Neither can be replaced but the historic liberties which allowed them to grow and speak and prosper undaunted continues unhampered. In life they played their roles up to the highest expectations. We have all lost by their departure, but we gained by their presence.

Inescapably A Part

Come next November the American people will have to decide a question that never previously has come home to them directly. The pressures of the presidency, its duties, requirements for understanding vast intricate issues, and finally the necessity for making great, earth-shaking decisions have all been increasing steadily in the past few decades, William H. Stringer, chief of the Washington Bureau of the Christian Science Monitor, writes in The Washington Scene.

It is not unfortunate then, Mr. Stringer insists, that the burden of the presidency has become an issue in this campaign in 1956.

Actually, he says, it is useful. It is useful, Mr. Stringer reasons in dispassionate spirit, (The Monitor has been one of Mr. Eisenhower's staunchest supporters) because new issues constantly keep arising, and the electorate desperately needs to be alerted.

"Who speaks for America, for instance, in the

At Norfolk worry was beginning to ride City Clerk Alvin Ahlman. Out of an estimated 7,000 qualified voters only 3,332—less than half—had taken the time and trouble to register. A new state law, which exempts Lincoln from its provisions, requires all voters to register to vote in 1956 regardless of when they last registered. And unless they do register this year they will not be eligible to cast a ballot at any election. There are different deadlines for registration in order to participate in 1956's elections.

There could be a raising eyebrows as a token of surprise when the reader discovered that Nebraska's sawmills produced eight and one-half million board feet of native lumber in 1955, enough to construct a 4-foot wide boardwalk from Omaha to the Wyoming line. True, 80 per cent of it came from the cottonwood groves, soft wood, and difficult to cure. But there was also pine, oak, maple, sycamore, hackberry, and fir in addition. So the old tradition of the rolling hills, the endless prairies, and the waving sea of grass meets with contradiction in a state where maturity has given it millions of fine trees in all their beauty. This 8½ million board feet of native lumber came from 190 sawmills—85 of them along the banks of the Missouri, 26 more gracing the Elkhorn, 22 located on the Platte, and the same number in the picturesque valley of the Niobrara, a clear meandering stream cutting through tall grass country on the fringes of the Nebraska Sandhills. The remainder of the sawmills operate along the Loup, the Blue and the Republican rivers. Most of the mills are strictly for farm use, but 40 are small commercial undertakings in the state.

'Tis an ill wind that blows no good, an old saw goes, but at least one ill wind hit the middle Loup Valley recently. It blew open a door of the Walter Nielsen family at Loup City while the family was visiting in Central City. The chill air killed more than 200 African violet plants, a magnificent collection embracing 125 varieties collected at some care and expense. There is no easy replacement for the loss of flowers that have been gathered with loving care and attendance.

Elmer M. Demaray is rounding out 34 years of continuous service as the county clerk of Blaine. It gives him the distinction of serving longer in that particular post than any other Nebraska official filling a similar job. We remember our first glimpse of Blaine years ago. We had crossed the North Loup River west of Taylor, an inland town, and then on to Brewster. Just outside of Brewster that mellow fall afternoon we saw a large flock of prairie chickens, the first we had seen. Near the heart of the Sandhills, it is great country, lonely, country which nature decreed should support herds of cattle. But once caught in the spell of that region it is to forever believe that to be one of the most beautiful spots in the world.

It does not always follow that three-score and ten marks the end of great usefulness and service of a man on the bench. There are exceptions, depending upon the individual. But generally Nebraskans will hail the decision of the Nebraska Supreme Court affirming the constitutionality of the retirement act passed by the 1955 Legislature, and decreeing that its provisions will not be effective until Jan. 1 of 1957.

DREW PEARSON

Trumans' Choice; Rule By Barden

WASHINGTON — Ex-President Truman has faced a lot of problems in his day, but he now faces the most difficult of all. Perhaps he has been so worried.

After Potsdam, of course, he had to make the soul-tormenting decision to drop the atom bomb over Hiroshima. Later he had to make a decision regarding the Berlin Air-Lift; another regarding the Marshall Plan; also aid to Greece and Turkey; plus the question of whether he should run again in 1948, when various Democratic leaders were trying to draft Eisenhower instead.

Harry rose to all these occasions with considerable promptitude and courage. He did not waver, did not appoint any of the commissions now so numerous in Washington.

Today, however, things are tougher. The most difficult decision of all time is at Harry's door-step. Margaret wants a small family wedding—only a few friends invited.

But Mrs. Truman wants to see her one and only child married the right way. She wants a big formal wedding. And Harry, torn between the two women he loves most, is in a quandary. He may even do what Eisenhower has done so many times—appoint a commission to decide.

The hackles bristled on the necks of 11 Democratic congressmen at a closed-door, highly secret meeting in the office of Congressman Graham Barden, Democrat of New Bern, N.C.

Barden is the courtly Carolinian, chairman of the House education and labor committee who began life as a school teacher. He is bitterly opposed to aid to education. He has become one of the most reactionary members of congress.

Barden is so reactionary that he has held not one meeting of his education and labor committee since congress convened in January—instead rules the committee with his own iron hand. Though he took time to arrange a nice committee junket to Puerto Rico, he will not take one hour to call a regular meeting. What forced this impromptu meeting of Democrats only in Barden's private office was the fact that he had hired a recognized labor-baiter, James M. Brewbaker, as counsel of the committee—a committee which is entrusted with liberalizing the Taft-Hartley act, broadening wage-hour laws and passing federal aid to education. Yet without consulting a single member of the committee, Barden had hired a "labor adviser" who had spent 11 years working for the anti-labor National Association of Manufacturers and later formed his own anti-labor outfit, the Association of Industrial Mobilization.

Eleven glowing Democrats, therefore, gathered in Barden's office. Barden, in turn matched their glowers.

"We should wash our linen within the confines of our own committee," he said, frowning at Congressman Jimmy Roosevelt, who had issued a press statement criticizing the Brewbaker appointment.

"I don't agree," replied Roosevelt. He went on to point out that when the committee chairman appoints an anti-labor counsel without calling a meeting and without consulting other congressmen, he had every right to express his view publicly and emphatically.

"We should stay with the chairman," insisted Rep. Carl Elliott of Alabama. "The committee granted him the authority to hire the council and I will stay with him on his choice."

Representative Phil Landrum of Georgia nodded agreement.

The other Democrats did not agree. And for three hours they expressed their views in no uncertain terms. Those who protested were: Kelley of Pennsylvania, Bailey of West Virginia, Perkins of Kentucky, Wier of Minnesota, Metcalf of Montana, Chudoff of Pennsylvania, Green of Oregon, McDowell of Delaware, Thompson of New Jersey, and Udall of Arizona.

"I never dreamed anyone would question his integrity," Barden protested, referring to Brewbaker. (Copyright 1956 by Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Question Natural Death Of Bierut

NEW YORK — The last Democratic premier of Poland, Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, now in exile in the U.S., points out a gruesome coincidence in connection with the death last week in Moscow of the Communist boss of Poland, Boleslaw Bierut.

Bierut died while under the care of Soviet doctors not long after praising Stalin in an article that was published in Pravda. Bulgaria's top commie, Dimitroff, conked out after undergoing similar medical treatment in Moscow. His wife was not permitted to see him before his death. Czechoslovakia's Red president, Gottwald, also croaked while under the loving care of Soviet doctors.

At the height of public interest in brainwashed former American prisoners of war, several old generals and admirals informed this writer that they would have killed themselves rather than sign false confessions.

Well, one of the most distinguished U.S. military figures tends to dissent. General Maxwell Taylor, army chief of staff, says in effect that no soldier can predict how he would react until actually faced by the sadistic pressures. It is General Taylor's idea that the Army must build men of tougher morale, since these are the new rules of war. The only way the Army can do this is with the aid of parents and teachers, he says. After all, they get the potential military men before the armed services can have a whack at them.

A valuable textbook in this grim field is on the spring list of Farrar, Straus, and Cudahy. It is Edward Hunter's "Brainwashing—The Story of Men who Defied It." Hunter is a famed foreign correspondent who interviewed dozens of men in Hong Kong after they had been released by the Chinese Reds. A lot of Americans did not break. Hunter will tell just how they weathered utterly inhuman treatment. (Distributed 1956 By INS)

DORIS FLEESON

Kefauver Drive Gaining On Adlai

WASHINGTON—Dispatches over the week end indicating that Senator Estes Kefauver is catching up to Adlai Stevenson in the Minnesota presidential primary are causing intense anxiety among Stevenson supporters.

The crucial fact of the situation is that if Stevenson loses or is badly damaged there he has absolutely no alibi. With one minor exception — Congressman Coya Runtzen — the state party leaders have joined with him in a well-organized, well-financed and diversified campaign.

To stay in business, Stevenson must win at least two to one. A drop from that and the party professionals, now so largely in his corner, will make their own agonizing reappraisal of their presidential position.

Emotional down and up drafts are common to the closing moments of hard-fought campaigns. The Stevenson people do not deny that Kefauver is showing voter appeal, but are confident their superior organization will make all the difference. The senator's aids insist the whole picture has changed.

Senator Kefauver has always believed that he would come out on top if he could maneuver Stevenson into a contest of personalities. Failing to get Stevenson into New Hampshire, Kefauver followed him into Minnesota, a move many thought suicidal because of the state organization's early stampede to Stevenson.

Undeterred, Kefauver has all but dogged Stevenson's footsteps. The front runner avoided appearing on the same platform with the underdog, but apparently Kefauver has managed to create in some degree at least the effect he sought.

Alarms and excursions of this sort were always a hazard of Stevenson's presidential bid. It has from the start been a peculiar political adventure, for the doctrine following of Adlai Stevenson is not in politics.

This fact has been obscured by his support among the big city and state leaders of his party. But they are for him because they think he can win. It is not a personal loyalty or the appeal of a congenial soul. Once they suspect that they were mistaken about the Stevenson appeal, the leaders will waste no time on sentiment but will start looking around.

They will not be looking at Kefauver. Kefauver would profit in various ways from a Minnesota triumph if it were great enough, including the effect on Stevenson and the encouragement of his own forces. But the senator would not be more popular with party leaders; he would be more unpopular.

That is his problem, just as he is Stevenson's. Nor can he count a single senator in his corner this year.

A Minnesota upset would also confirm politicians in their dislike of primaries. Former President Truman got a bad press when he scoffed at primaries, but he spoke by the book as far as primaries knock out aspirants; he didn't nominate them. (Copyright, 1956, By U.F. Syndicate, Inc.)

MARY AND MARTHA

Stories From The Life Of Jesus

yard, talking with Mary, the thinker and dreamer, who sat listening. And they were talking not of things of this world, but of heaven, and of the ways of the kingdom of God. But while they talked, from inside the house came a growing clatter of plates and pots and jugs. It was, somehow, a very noisy kitchen this day—almost as if Martha were deliberately making a racket.

Still Jesus and Mary sat talking. Suddenly Martha stomped angrily to the doorway. With that terrible politeness that some people use when they are very cross indeed, she spoke to Mary:

"My! said Martha. 'Isn't it nice and cool out here in the yard. You know, Mary, we have a great, and wonderful Guest tonight, and we must get supper ready. Here you sit, doing nothing, while I bake and stew over a hot fire!'"

Mary hung her head, and bit her lip. But before she could reply, Martha turned to Jesus.

"Lord, don't you even care that my sister has left me alone to serve? Speak to her, and tell her to help me!"

"Martha, Martha," He said gently. "You are careful, and troubled about many things. But one thing is necessary. Mary has chosen the best part, which shall not be taken away from her."

Martha opened her mouth wide, and shut it again with a pop.

Never is her born days had she expected such an answer from the Master!

With a switch of her apron, and a toss of her head, she hurried back to the kitchen, as puzzled and unhappy a woman as ever lived. "What on earth do you suppose He meant?" she said to herself as she pounded the salt into the stew pot.

"He always said He approved of hard work! Am I to blame for doing my job, for goodness' sake?"

With a sharp blade Martha sliced the onions, a piece of bread between her teeth to keep the tears away.

"Whoever heard of a girl's using her mind instead of her hands?" Martha asked herself.

There—there was the real question!

For in those days the life of girls and of women was far different that what it is today. Only boys learned to read. Only boys went to school. A girl was meant to work in the house, and forget she ever had a mind!

"Did Jesus mean that homemaking wasn't important?" Martha asked herself as she poked at the coals under the copper kettle. She shook her head, answering herself. He knew, and honored, the work of women's hands. He meant only that there was more than that in the world for women!

"You know," said Martha to the hourglass that timed her cooking, "what He said out there in the garden is something completely new! Someday there will be many girls like Mary in the world!"

Then Martha laughed out loud. "But there will always be plenty like me!" she said. "The world needs us both!"

Then with a flurry and a scurry, Martha bustled back to work, bending over her pots and pans.

When the table was set, and the family gathered, Jesus gave thanks for the food they were about to eat. Tasting, He praised Martha's savory stew, and His eyes saw each detail of her work—her crisp linens, her shining dishes. And a blessing was in each look He gave her.

Across the table Mary met Martha's eyes. And the sisters smiled, for both knew they served Jesus, each in her own way.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Demos Beset With Problems

WASHINGTON — By any proper method of political cost accounting, the Democratic party today would be found in a state close to bankruptcy.

The internal stresses and strains, the painful uncertainties over candidates and issues all add up to a sizeable total on the red ink side of the ledger.

The items that make up this total are evident in the day to day headlines. The Southern wing of the party is in open revolt, with the likelihood that from three to five southern states will bolt the party for a white supremacy ticket.

The Democratic candidate who has been shown in all the polls to be far ahead is Adlai Stevenson. Two rivals, Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, and Gov. Averell Harriman, of New York, are out to trip up the front-runner. There are dark hints that these two have entered into a conspiracy to eliminate Stevenson.

Certainly if either Harriman or Kefauver became the nominee, the states of the deep South would walk out.

As a candidate counseling moderation and patience, Stevenson might hold the party together. This is doubtful, however, since the southern movement behind Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, of Texas, is aimed at forcing the Democratic convention to accept a compromise on the integration issue. Such a compromise would alienate voters in the North.

On the side of hard, cold cash, the latest report to Congress of the Democratic campaign committees showed a deficit of $121,662 for the first two months of the year. National committee officials say there is about $75,000 in the treasury. That is a small sum with which to face a presidential campaign only five months away.

In contrast, the Republicans already have their candidate in President Eisenhower, who is shown by the polls to be a two-to-one favorite over Stevenson. This means that their campaign is well under way.

The Republican candidate will have the support of up to 85 per cent of the press, and the Republican treasury is full to overflowing. The latest report, as of March 1, showed nearly $2,000,000. Actually the GOP resources now may be closer to $5,000,000.

Loyal Democrats think back to eight years ago to find consolation and courage. Then, the same kind of political cost accounting had the Democrats all but finished. The polls indicated that if President Truman ran for re-election he would be overwhelmingly defeated. Important elements in the party wanted to dump him.

A southern revolt was brewing.

'Two-Bit' Tourist Bus Tour Berlin's Biggest Bargain

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
BERLIN (AP) — The biggest tourist bargain in Berlin today is the U. S. Army's 25-cent bus tour of the four-power city. As a part of it, you get a long ride and several stops in the Russian sector. There, despite Moscow's new anti-Stalinist line, statues of Stalin and other monuments to the late Soviet dictator are still in evidence. The tour is so popular with visiting American servicemen, dependents and civilians that the Army fills three buses for the 3 1/2-hour tour every Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday. More than half of the time is spent in East Berlin, the Soviet half of the city.

Guide's Gibes
Your guide, an English-speaking West Berliner, is likely to enliven this part of the trip with gentle gibes at the Communists. Passing the nearly deserted, main railway station in East Berlin, he will tell you: "The Blue Express leaves this station daily for Moscow. As you can see, it is always crowded like this."

7,000 Buried In Terrace
Seven thousand Russians who died in the battle for Berlin are buried in a landscaped terrace at the foot of a huge bronze statue of a Russian soldier. Red granite used in sculptured monuments of the garden was taken from Hitler's Chancellery.

From the memorial park, the tour swings past the big J. W. Stalin electrical works and then down Stalin Allee, the main thoroughfare of East Berlin and showpiece of the reconstruction effort by the Communists.

For more than a mile, Stalin Allee is lined on both sides with uniform rows of white-tiled apartment houses eight to twelve stories high.

Hides Rubble
Just behind the rows of apartment houses, you can see war ruins—the rubble, bombed-out buildings and desolation still characteristic of much of East Berlin.

Back in Allied West Berlin, the tour swings down the Kurfürstendamm, the broad neo-lighted main street and center of smart shops, hotels and night clubs.

Stops include one at the West Berlin City Hall, where the American-donated freedom bell peals for five minutes at noon every day. Another is the huge Tempelhof Airport, scene of the Allied Berlin airlift in 1948-49 and presently used by three commercial airlines and the U.S. Air Force.

One of the tour's last stops is at a Soviet war monument near the Brandenburg gate and just inside the British sector. "Until 1953," the tour guide relates, "there was only one Russian soldier at a time on duty at this memorial. One day, he left his post and asked for political asylum in the West. Now, there are two guards all the time—one to guard the monument and the other to guard the guard."

COMMANDER REVEALS: Atomic Weapons Kept At LAFB 'Sometimes' . . . Base Worth $318 Million
Nuclear weapons are kept at the Lincoln Air Force Base at "various times" to familiarize personnel with handling them. This was revealed Monday by Brig. Gen. Claude E. Putnam, 818th Air Division Commander at the Base. He declined to say whether nuclear weapons are stored on the base at all times. But Gen. Putnam said there would be no difficulty in obtaining such weapons should the need suddenly arise. He termed the power of the weapons "fantastic."

Nearly Full Strength
The general said the two bomb wings at the Base are now nearly at full strength personnel-wise and are "about two-thirds" combat ready. He said each bomb wing has 45 B-47 jet bombers and 20 KC-97 fuel tankers attached to it.

Gen. Putnam made his remarks at a press conference called to discuss plans for the 10th anniversary of the founding of the Strategic Air Command, commanded by Gen. Curtis E. LeMay.

The readiness of the Strategic Air Command, he said has been the greatest deterrent in preventing war for the past 10 years. He said potential enemies realize that there "could be no profit" in a nuclear war.

The SAC, he said, must obtain authority to use nuclear weapons from the President. The President, he added, exercises that authority through the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Parade, Review
The general disclosed a 5,000-man parade and review will be held Saturday morning at the Base in connection with SAC anniversary ceremonies.

SAC Founded
SAC was founded March 21, 1946. Its headquarters are in Omaha.

Mrs. Carl Deitemeyer of Lincoln "Mrs. America of 1955," will christen a B-47 "The City of Lincoln" in the Saturday ceremonies. An open house for Air Force personnel will follow the parade. Gov. Victor Anderson and Mayor Clark Jeary of Lincoln will be guests at the parade.

The Lincoln Air Force Base is one of more than 30 SAC bases throughout the United States. The estimated value of the Lincoln base is more than $318 million, according to Lt. Col. Leo L. Cannon, Base comptroller.

There are 6,000 military and 400 civilian personnel attached to the base. The 1955 military and civilian payroll at the Base was $12,654,876 Cannon revealed.

First Day Of Spring

SO 'TIS spring — or will be most any moment now — But the season will make no appreciable change in our own little bailiwick where news is no respecter of seasons — its around all of the time.

This morning we have some tidings of interest — such as the fact that Mr. and Mrs. E. John Moyle are moving away from Lincoln. Mr. and Mrs. Moyle will leave on March 30 for their new home in Rockford, Mich., but before they go they are to be honored at numerous informal farewell courtesies.

On Thursday morning Mrs. J. Marshall Neely and her daughter, Mrs. Hugh Williams, will entertain at a coffee at which Mrs. Moyle and her daughter, Mrs. Dan Lilly of Kansas City, who is spending several days in Lincoln, will share honors.

THOUGHT you might also like to know that Mr. and Mrs. Jack Phillips (Joan Selleck) have purchased the Moyle home at 2745 Jackson Dr.

TODAY is homecoming day for Dr. and Mrs. Robert Stein who are returning from Brownville, Tex., where they had a two weeks holiday — En route to Brownville Dr. and Mrs. Stein stopped off at Seguin, Tex., where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nolte, formerly of Lincoln.

ON the Tuesday calendar is the luncheon for which Mrs. Blanchard Anderson will be hostess at her home when she entertains the members of her birthday club. The birthday celebrant, is Mrs. Edward J. Walt whose anniversary is on Wednesday — March 28, officially speaking.

WE hear that Miss Martha Danielson and Miss Janet Danielson, following their guest appearance with the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra this evening, will be honored at a coffee given by the members of the Lincoln Symphony Association Board at the University Club. The guest list will include the board members, their wives — or husbands — as the case may be, and the personnel of the orchestra.

WE already have mentioned that

Miss Carolyn Schimmel will be arriving home soon from the University of Missouri to spend the spring recess as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Q. Schimmel — But we've just heard that Miss Schimmel will be a luncheon hostess on Friday, March 30, when she entertains at Hotel Cornhusker. The list will include a group of Miss Schimmel's old high school friends.

ARRIVING home on April 2 for a week's stay in town will be Miss Jane Carpenter, an Airline stewardess with headquarters in Denver, who will be the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Carpenter.

Whitworth of Mt. Vernon, N.Y. The maid of honor will be the bride-elect's cousin, Miss Gretchen Bosse of Eugene, Ore., and the bridesmaids will include Mrs. Robert Fricke, Ashland; Miss Suzanne Graham, Omaha; Miss Julie Young of Bentonville, Ark., sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Carter Idings and Miss Ting Lilly.

Robert Sherwood of Kansas City will serve Mr. Young as best man, and the ushers will be Samuel A. Whitworth, brother of the bride; Lawrence Franzen, Holdrege; Nelson Harding, Omaha; Jerry Achermeyer, Beatrice; James Rice and Duane Rankin.

THIS morning announcement is made of the bridal entourage for the wedding of Miss Marion Whitworth and Russell Young which will take place on April 7.

For her matron of honor Miss Whitworth has chosen her sister-in-law, Mrs. Samuel A.

Group To Meet

The Lancaster County Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association will hold a meeting at 7:30 o'clock, Tuesday evening, at the Medical Arts Building, 800 So. 13th. Miss Irene Uehling, executive officer, will preside.

Girl Scout Officials

MISS BONNIE SALLANDER

Announcement is made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Sallander of Marshalltown, Ia., formerly of Lincoln, of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Bonnie, to John H. Whitmyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Whitmyer of Omaha, formerly of Kenosha, Wis.

The wedding will take place at 4 o'clock, the afternoon of Saturday, April 28, and the service will be solemnized at the Congregational Church in Marshalltown.

Miss Sallander was graduated last June from Christian College, Columbia, Mo. Her fiancé is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, Madison.

March PTA Meetings

SHERIDAN PTA members met Monday evening at the school to hear a panel discussion on, "Special Services Offered by the Lincoln Public Schools," for which Miss Janet Smith, psychologist and co-ordinator of special education in the Lincoln Schools, served as moderator. Panel speakers were Miss Edna Zamzow, co-ordinator of special employment in the Lincoln Schools; Mrs. Ella Mae Reimers, co-ordinator of child welfare; and Miss Zora Tennant, co-ordinator of attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knudsen were in charge of arrangements for the social hour assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Reed and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Durrie.

To Entertain

Members of the University of Nebraska Faculty Women's Newcomers Club may bring guests Tuesday evening to the regular meeting of the group, which will be held at 8 o'clock at the Foods and Nutrition Building, College of Agriculture.

A program on interior decoration will be given by Mrs. L. R. Snipes, and hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Paul Guyer, chairman, Mrs. Robert Johnson, Mrs. Raymond Real, Mrs. Arthur Ward, Mrs. Robert Craig, Mrs. Saul Epstein, Mrs. Fred Andrews, Mrs. Herman Gorz and Mrs. George Steinbrugge.

Hearing Group Plans Dinner

Members of the Lincoln Hearing Society will meet for a dinner and card party on Wednesday evening at the YMCA. The dinner will begin at 6:30 o'clock.

Honored By Sorority

At a dinner on Sunday evening which culminated Sigma Kappa State Day and which was held in the Terrace Room at Hotel Lincoln, Mrs. Henry Lucas of Omaha was named Sigma Kappa Woman of the Year.

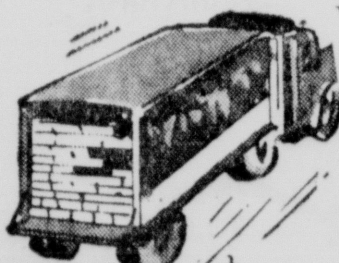

Mrs. Lucas, who teaches at Westside School in Omaha, was given the award because of her outstanding service to the sorority. She aided in establishing a Sigma Kappa chapter at the University of Omaha; is past president of Sigma Kappa alumnae in Omaha; has served as state secretary of the American Association of University Women, and president of the Omaha Branch of AAUW.

Standing, Mrs. Robert A. George, State Day Chairman, and Mrs. Frank Cooper, Omaha, named chairman of the 1937 State Day to be held in Omaha.

New Orleans TV Official Balks On Red Probe Quiz

Herman Liveright Challenges Solons

WASHINGTON (INS) — The program director for New Orleans television station WDSU refused to reply to Senate investigators Monday when asked if he and his wife were sent South "on a mission for the Communist party."

The witness, Herman Liveright declined to base his refusal on the constitutional protection of the Fifth Amendment. Instead, he challenged the Senate Internal Security subcommittee's right to inquire into his "political beliefs" or "personal affairs."

His politely-worded refusal to answer questions — including one as to whether he is a Communist — brought a warning from subcommittee chairman James O. Eastland (D-Miss.), that he would seek a contempt citation against Liveright.

The 44-year-old witness, who identified himself as son of the late Horace Liveright, New York book publisher in the 1920's, told newsmen after the hearing he believes his appearance before the subcommittee might have had something to do with the segregation issue.

Liveright contended there is a "distinct possibility" he was called in connection with "pressure" on WDSU from "a number of individuals and groups which claim" that the TV station has not been "completely fair" to pro-segregationists in Louisiana.

During the hearing, Eastland, a leading pro-segregationist himself, asked Liveright whether he and his wife once held a Communist cell meeting in their home after sending their children away so the youngsters could not see who attended.

The dark-haired witness declined to answer the question, but, after the hearing, he told newsmen he wanted to reply in the negative. He said "90 per cent" of the subcommittee's questions were "fanciful" and "without foundation" but his refusal to answer was a matter of principle.

Asked by Eastland whether he was sent to the South by the Communist party with instructions to "stay clean" by keeping away from other Reds, Liveright said the "purported information" contained in the query was "completely erroneous."

Right to Ask
However, he declined to give a direct reply, restating his challenge of the subcommittee's right to ask about such matters.

The Senate investigators said they had been told Liveright and his wife were Communists in New York before moving to New Orleans.

Union College Dairy Gets 'Cheap' Calf

Jeary Seeks Way To Protect Motorists At Rail Crossings

Mayor Clark Jeary asked Monday for an opinion from the city's legal department about what the city might be able to do to bring about better protection to motorists at railroad crossings.

Jeary's action followed a Sunday accident on No. 33rd in which three youths were killed when their car was hit by a California-bound streamliner.

A complete report on the accident has been made to Jeary by the Police Department.

The crossing at which the accident occurred has no warning signals, Jeary said. A flashing light would not have prevented this accident, Jeary said, but automatic gates might have.

City Attorney Jack Pace has stated that the city has authority to require a flagman in attendance at any railroad grade crossing. It could probably be assumed from this, he said, that the city has the authority to require automatic gates.

City officials may also give study to the speed of trains through the city. The present city law on this point, more than 50 years old, sets a speed limit of 18 miles an hour for trains through the city.

This is not a realistic limit. Pace noted, but neither is 70 miles an hour.

The streamliner was reportedly going 70 miles an hour when it hit the car on 33rd.

Johnson Confirms He May Make Race For Second Municipal Bench Seat

Richard O. Johnson, Lincoln attorney and former mayor, has confirmed reports that he is considering running for election as municipal judge.

Johnson said he has frequently been asked by friends about filing for the judicial position but has not made a final decision in the matter yet.

"I do feel," he said, "that with a second Municipal Court judge, there should be time to render a greater service to the public. If I do file for the position, I will do so with the intention of making a human and Christian application of the law."

"As a judge, I would hope to be able to help offenders of the law as well as administer the law," Johnson was unsuccessful in his bid for election as a Republican in 1954 as a county commissioner from the Third District. He was the mayor of Lincoln from 1941 to 1943 and on the City Council from 1937 to 1941.

He has served two terms in the State Legislature and has made two unsuccessful bids for election as attorney general. He has also served as city attorney for Havelock before its annexation and as deputy Lincoln city attorney.

Johnson is a 1922 graduate of the University of Nebraska law college. He is a member of the Scottish Rite, Shrine, Elks, OES and Trinity Methodist Church.

He is 61, married, has one daughter and resides at 1740 Pawnee. There is presently only one Mu-

City OKs, Puts Up Half Of Building Authority Budget

A $9,000 budget for the City-County Building Authority has been approved by the City Council.

The city will furnish one-half of the budget money. County Commissioners were expected to give their approval to the budget Tuesday.

The money will pay the expenses of the Authority in planning and submitting to the voters a proposed bond issue to finance construction of a new joint city and county building. The funds are set up to carry the Authority through a year of operation.

If the bond issue is approved, the city and county would be refunded their respective $4,500. The money will pay for office supplies, clerical help, architect's fees and site and space surveys.

The Authority expects to place an approximate $3.5 million bond issue proposal on a June 26 special election ballot.

Water, Light Employees Due For Pay Raise

Salary increases costing a total of $12,600 have been informally approved by the City Council for line department and plant employees of the city water and light departments.

To be acted upon officially next Monday, the increases would bring employees affected up to the same salary scale as similar employees of Consumers Public Power District and the Nebraska Public Power System.

Under the proposed schedule, 36 line department employees would receive increases of 6 cents an hour for those with one to three years service and 9 cents an hour for those with four or more years of service. These employees presently receive from $1.25 to $2.41 an hour.

The plant employees on an hourly basis would receive increases of 9 cents an hour while those on a monthly scale would be boosted from $10 to $20 a month. Salaries here now are from $1.61 to $2.21 an hour and from $312 to $366 a month for 33 employees.

The raises would cost the light department $3,200 a year and the water department $4,400 a year. The last raise for these employees was one year ago, according to Public Works Director D. L. Erickson.

Refugee Problem Called Crux Of Tense Near East

The Near East is very tense and will continue to be as long as the refugee problem persists, Dr. Edwin Moll, former director of the Lutheran World Council's Near East branch, said Monday in Lincoln.

The Lutheran World Federation spends $1½ million a year on Arab refugees, Dr. Moll said, and has clothed two and a half million people.

The federation sponsors soup kitchens and milk centers for the needy, he said.

A special representative of the National Lutheran Council for promotion of its fund appeal, Dr. Moll spoke at Frieden's Lutheran Church. He will speak Tuesday at Columbus.

Definitely an Irene!
Definitely New!

Irene, the name that is echoing around the fashion world because of her unique way of designing, is only at Hovland-Swanson in Nebraska. The suit, shown here, depicts all that's new and exciting. The novel way of blousing with the suit jacket gracefully fitted at the hip band, so a relaxed, easy manner is achieved. Truly a designing great in Mediterranean blue light-weight wool. From our Irene of California collection.

REPUBLICAN FOUNDERS DAY ACTIVITIES—

State GOP Endorses Nixon, Thanks God 'For Sparing' Ike

Nebraska Republicans have endorsed Richard Nixon for another term as vice president while "giving thanks to Almighty God for sparing" President Dwight Eisenhower, who "after due deliberation has seen fit again to be a candidate."

Two resolutions were adopted unanimously by 300 delegates to the party's state pre-primary convention held Monday in Lincoln.

The convention served as a kickoff to a day-long Founders Day party rally.

The Nixon resolution was proposed by John Riddell of York, who described the vice president as a "great patriot, soldier, statesman, and Republican."

The Eisenhower resolution, adopted by a standing acclamation, was made by W. C. Fraser of Omaha.

Ted H. Maenner of Omaha was elected GOP national committeeman succeeding Abel V. Shottwell of Omaha, who is retiring after 12 years in that position.

Mrs. Edna Basten Donald of Grand Island was re-elected national committeewoman, to another four-year term. Both elections were by acclamation.

Urged Davis Succeed McKay

Another resolution urged that President Eisenhower appoint Clarence A. Davis of Lincoln as interior secretary when Secretary Douglas McKay resigns. McKay has announced he will leave the post to run for U. S. Senator for Oregon. Davis now is undersecretary of the Interior.

Convention keynote speaker was Presidential Assistant Fred A. Seaton, Hastings publisher, who said the Eisenhower administration has kept the GOP pledges for "peace, prosperity, and the people."

Reviewing accomplishments of the Eisenhower administration, Seaton said that when the administration moved in, it found a nation "weary and worried" by the international situation, and fearing a long and interminable war in Korea.

It also found scandals and bickering in Washington, a shrunken American dollar and encroachment of federal government on the rights of states and individuals, he said.

Foreign Policy Referring to the international situation, Seaton said there's a difference between a foreign policy which says "we went to the brink of war three times" and one under which "we went into war three times."

The Eisenhower-Dulles policy keeping America "militarily and spiritually strong," Seaton said, has built our military strength 3½ times as strong as in 1950, before Korea when another administration was in power.

"We've had some scandals, but whenever we found a scandal in this administration we've done something to stamp it out," he declared. "We don't have the same one twice."

"As Republicans, I'm sure you will take some satisfaction in the fact that we have cut 300,000 persons off the federal payroll."

The decline in the value of the American dollar has been halted, Seaton said. "What it was worth in the beginning of 1953, it is worth today."

"Not all is perfect," he acknowledged. "We've got some bad spots."

"Nobody needs to tell the Eisenhower administration that the farm situation is not what it ought to be and that we need legislation to get the farmer a fair share of opportunity in this country of ours."

"Note that I said 'a fair share of opportunity.' Seaton emphasized. "The American farmer and his wife don't want the federal government to give them anything. They want a chance to earn for themselves."

The administration believes in a farm program that will "get the farmer out of trouble and then keep him out," Seaton added.

Except for the farmer, Americans are making and keeping more money than at any time in this country's history, Seaton said. And approval of the administration's proposed farm legislation will correct the situation as far as the farmer is concerned.

Chauncey E. Barney, Lancaster County GOP chairman, introduced the resolution backing Davis for interior secretary.

Louis V. Holmes, Grand Island attorney, nominated Mrs. Donald. Seconding the nomination was Shottwell, who said "I regret I will not be with her to serve again."

Mrs. Donald is vice chairman of the national GOP committee.

W. C. Fraser of Omaha nominated Maenner, and seconding speeches were given by Ted Hook of Wayne and Don Harrington of Lincoln. Maenner, an Omaha realtor, has been long-time GOP fund-raising chairman for Douglas County.

Women In Party 'Best Organized'—Congresswoman

Rep. Katherine St. George (R-NY) told Nebraska Republicans women at their annual Founders Day luncheon Monday that the best organized unit in the party today is the women.

The congresswoman, now running for her sixth term, urged the women to apply their GOP strength.

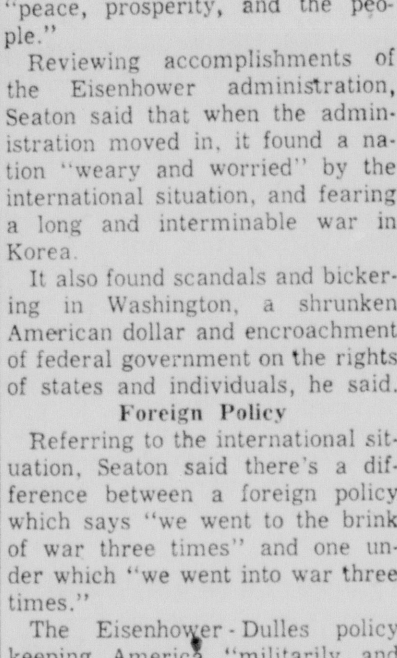

Discussing agricultural problems, she said it was an error to try to solve them with a single bill when the problems are diversified.

She praised the soil bank plan, but said it would aid the mid-west but not areas with dairy farming interests like her district.

She praised Richard Nixon as vice president, saying any good Republican should like him for the enemies he has made, citing the way he "pointed his finger at Alger Hiss."

GMC brings you the most impressive improvements of all
1956 trucks

Now we can show you these great new GMC's that are further than ever ahead of all others. Their advances not only clinch power supremacy—but reach into fields still unexplored by other truck-makers.

For example, GMC's Road Shock Damper Suspension*—plus a unique new stabilizer—produces in half-ton models a ride comparable to the finest passenger car.

An optional new fast-ratio cruising axle in light-duty GMC's gives you an overdrive's pace and economy without its cost.

Sharply increased engine displacement in both sixes and V8's gives you a power family unsurpassed in the light-duty field. Specifically, we offer 14.4% GREATER displacement on 6-cylinder models, 16.2% on V8's than our nearest competitors. And GMC V8's, mind you, match the shortest stroke ratios in the truck industry.

Styling is well into the future—panoramic windshield to sand-tight tail gate. Tubeless tires, of course. And a 12-volt electrical system is standard.

These are some of the strides presented in new 1956 Blue Chip trucks we now have on view. The values are even more notable. Come in and get the facts!

*Standard on Suburban; optional at slight extra cost on other ½-ton models

STANTON DELAPLANE

POSTCARD

Local No. 124, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers has gone back to college. To study, of all things, loafing.
The electrical workers are not studying how to loaf. But rather how to keep from loafing. They are going to the University of Kansas City. They get a ten-week course on how people loaf on the job and how to avoid it.

The only reason I bring this up is because I think the electrical workers should think it over before they spend a lot of money on tuition.
I have been studying loafing for a good many years. In fact, it is my hobby. I did not get to school either. I studied it on the job. I could tell the electrical workers a thing or two about loafing.

Only the other day I read a poll in which 57 percent of everybody said they thought the 30-hour week was coming soon.

People who go to school to learn how not to loaf for 40 hours will have a hard time breaking the habit when the 30-hour week rolls around.

The thing to do is anticipate. Get ready. Get ready for those extra 10 hours.

It harder to loaf sometimes than it is to work. A professional loafer must loaf while looking like he is extremely busy.

When I was purloining pictures and in other ways aiding the free cause of the free press, I was an able loafer.
I discovered that city editors rarely interfere with a man who is holding a telephone. If you chew gum, it looks like you are talking. Hard on the jaws but good insurance.

Sometimes a suspicious desk man would walk over and peer at my notes. I was ready for him.

My ready made notes read: "2 killed 8th ave 2 alarm rescued scantily clad, emer hosp janitor oleson 2nd degree pruns."

A two-alarm fire is just strong enough to keep them off of you. Not heavy enough to get excited. I found a telephone holder that rested on your shoulder. I never found a way to cut off that confounded buzzing noise. There are new fields for newer loafers to conquer.

Loafing may be done all the time. But it is better seasonally. This is the loafing season.

Loafing may be done by cleaning out the attic. Just the other day, I cleaned out my attic. It turned out to be chockful of magazines that I had hardly read at all.

Some of the serials I hadn't finished. And most of the others I had meant to read again, anyway. My boxer, who is the most accomplished loafer in the world sat around with me. We got a lot of loafing done. It was very satisfactory.

The point is that loafing is not wasted time. You get a lot of real thinking accomplished.

The Kansas City electrical worker: now, they will work and worry over work and how to get more work done. And they will never step and think "Why am I working?"

If they thought about that, they would not work so hard. Because it is a fading institution. And pretty soon they will be on a 30-hour week and find they never loafed and thought enough to know what to do with it.

Nice things are for thoughtful people.

'57 PLATES IRISH DELIGHT; LIKELY BE GREEN-WHITE

It will be a great year for the Irish in Nebraska if the license plates for 1957 are painted the colors tentatively selected—green and white.

State Motor Vehicle Supt. Dale Rogers Monday disclosed the new combination.

The final decision hinges on tests now being made at the Highway Department laboratory.

Rogers says he believes dark numerals on a light background make a more legible combination than white numerals on a dark background. He has several such combinations in mind, such as green, maroon, black or dark blue on a white or yellow background.

This year's Nebraska plates have white letters on black. Last year's had black on yellow.

It was pure coincidence that Nebraska came up with the same color combination as the neighboring states of Iowa and Colorado this year, Rogers said.

NU Band Fraternity Has 11 New Pledges

Jack McKie of Lincoln, president of Gamma Lambda, band fraternity at the University of Nebraska, has announced the group's new second semester pledges.

New pledges are: Edwin Vette, Mark Blum, Walter Ross, Frank Tirro, all of Lincoln; Richard Oehring and Arnold Epstein, both of Omaha; Don Deterding of Deshler, Edward Malzer of Nebraska City, Blaine McClary of Alliance, Robert Heiss of Gering, and Jerry Hurtz of Wymore.

Claims Soviets Can Disagree With Leaders Now

New Russian Leaders Have Halted 'Wicked Things'—Malenkov

LONDON (INS)—Georgi Malenkov said Monday night the new leaders in the Kremlin have cleaned up Russia, stopped such "wicked things" as dictatorship and established the right to dissent without fear of being branded a traitor.

It was the first comment by a top Soviet official on the denunciation of Stalin as a dangerous tyrant by Soviet Communist Party Boss Nikita Khrushchev and other Kremlin leaders at the recent party congress in Moscow.

Malenkov, a former Soviet premier and Stalin's one-time protégé, was questioned about the blast at Stalinism at a British Labor Party dinner.

Brief Talk With Eden
Malenkov, who is touring Britain as Soviet minister for electric power stations, went to the dinner after a brief talk with British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden at 10 Downing Street.

Laborite Richard Crossman said: "Malenkov was questioned on the reported Khrushchev speech about Stalin. He replied they had cleaned up Russia, that there was no need to worry and that they had stopped dictatorship."

Crossman further quoted the Soviet guest as having said: "We have stopped other wicked things and have established collective government."

Laborite Sidney Silverman added: "Can Now Disagree"
"Malenkov said collective leadership has been established — and this is the important thing — that they have established the right to dissent outside the collective leadership without being branded a traitor to the leadership and party and people."

The Khrushchev revelations about the Stalin era — purportedly a grim story of a massacre, torture and a "regime of fear" that trapped even Stalin's closest associates — apparently is still shaking the Soviet Union as party chiefs try to explain the destruction of the Stalin myth to the rank-and-file.

Malenkov Appears 'OK'
Indications were, however, that Malenkov is weathering the new anti-Stalin drive by the Kremlin leadership despite his close affiliation with the fallen idol before Stalin's death.

Malenkov spent only 10 minutes with Eden during a 21-minute visit after inspecting Britain's Harwell atomic plant.

Malenkov's call was described as "very informal." There had been advance speculation Malenkov would brief Eden on the significance of the attacks made on Stalin and his policies at the recent Communist Party congress in Moscow.

Malenkov is minister of power stations — the post he was given after relinquishing the Soviet premiership to Marshal Nikolai Bulganin a year ago.

The Speculation
Speculation in London centered Monday night less on the possibility that Malenkov arranged his current tour of Britain to get himself out of the path of the sensational developments in Moscow than on the possibility that his trip actually was connected with a policy switch in the Soviet strategy.

Western observers believe that a balance of power has been struck among the new leaders in the Kremlin, who are trying to promote friendship with Britain, with Malenkov remaining influential enough to protect himself in the clinch.

It was pointed out Malenkov won personal popularity among the Soviet masses by advocating emphasis on consumer goods production.

Rites Held For Everett M. Chase
Funeral services for Everett M. Chase, 97, were held Monday afternoon at Rudge Memorial Chapel, with the Rev. David Gracey officiating. Burial was in Wyuka cemetery.

Mr. Chase, who died Thursday evening at a local hospital, was connected with the manufacture of food specialties in Lincoln for many years. He retired from active business a number of years ago.

Surviving are one daughter, Miss Helen Chase of Denver, Colo. and a grandson, Richard C. Salladin of Charlottesville, Va.

Mines Close
TOKYO (Tuesday) (INS) — Japan's vital coal industry was paralyzed by a shutdown of 56 mines in a wage dispute with 200,000 union workers.

The action began with a lockout ordered by the mine owners in answer to a scheduled partial strike which was to have affected only the transport operations of the mines located in the northern and southern islands of Hokkaido and Kyushu.

ANTI-STALIN LINE STILL STIRS USSR

LONDON (INS)—The reported denunciation of Stalin as a tyrant by the new rulers in the Kremlin apparently is still shaking the Soviet Union and Communist organizations abroad.

New demonstrations by students loyal to Stalin have been reported in Erivan, capital of Armenia, and Baku, capital of Azerbaijan, following similar incidents on a larger scale in Georgia, Stalin's home state.

Reports reaching London from the Soviet Union said the student demonstrators carried huge portraits of their dead leader, but details were lacking.

Take It In Stride
Diplomatic sources in a position to size up the situation, however, were inclined to believe that the reaction to the anti-Stalin blasts will be taken in stride and no great upheavals will result inside the Soviet Union.

Russia abruptly canceled invitations to several members of Britain's parliament to attend informal talks in Moscow on disarmament, beginning March 29, on the ground that there had not been sufficient time to make the necessary arrangements.

There was some speculation this development was the result of anticipated unrest inside Russia. But in other quarters it was interpreted as reflecting the possibility that Russia may be planning to come up with some dramatic gesture at the current disarmament talks in London that would make the Moscow meeting with the Britons unnecessary.

Senate OKs Bill For Lincoln Greek To Stay In U.S.

Sen. Carl Curtis informed John Nicholas Christodoulis of 3115 O, a native of Greece, that the Senate passed the bill Monday permitting him to remain in the United States and apply for U. S. citizenship.

Since Christodoulis has overstayed his visa, the bill which Sen. Curtis introduced would waive the usual immigration restrictions. The bill now will go to the House for action.

"I have no words to express myself at this time," Christodoulis said, "because I must wait until the bill goes through."

He said, however, that he wished to thank all his friends who had sent letters to Sen. Curtis telling the Senator of his problem.

Christodoulis came to the United States in 1949 and would have to return to Greece unless the House passes the bill.

Science Learns How To Stop Asthma Attacks

Doctors Find New Tiny Tablet Gives Relief In Minutes...Lasts For Hours!

New York, N. Y. (Special) — Medical science has developed a new, tiny tablet that stops asthma attacks... and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful asthma spasms.

Authoritative medical tests have proved that this remarkable compound brings blessed relief in mere minutes... relief that lasts for hours.

This fast-acting formula is prescribed more than any other by doctors for their private patients. And now asthma sufferers can obtain this formula — without prescription — in tiny, easy-to-take tablets called Primatene®.

New Primatene helps relieve asthma spasms these important ways: (1) opens bronchial tubes so that breathing is natural; (2) loosens mucous congestion; (3) relieves taut, nervous tension. All this without taking painful injections, and without the inconvenience of nebulizers.

The secret of Primatene is that it combines 3 medicines found most effective in combination for asthma distress. Each medicine performs a special purpose. Primatene is available at all drug stores. The price is only 98¢ for a bottle of twenty-four tablets. And remember — if not entirely satisfied, your money will be refunded promptly.

So look forward to sleep at night and freedom from anxiety by day. Get Primatene, today!

Coach Urges Pro Rules For College Ball

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank McGuire, basketball coach at the University of North Carolina, urged Monday that the colleges adopt professional rules "in toto" to save the sport from malnutrition at the gate.

"I would suggest the adoption of these three points specifically," the former St. John's of Brooklyn mentor told the National Invitation Tournament luncheon. Then he listed:

"1. Adoption of a 30-second rule, making it imperative that a shot at the basket be taken within 30 seconds after gaining possession. (the pro rule is 24 seconds)

"2. Outlaw the zone defense—it's killing basketball.

"3. Put the two defensive men on the inside of the basket in line-ups for foul shooting. This eliminates cheap tip-ins."

McGuire said he felt that the 30-second rule was necessary to end drab, freezing tactics.

"The crowds want a lot of action," he said.

McGuire told visiting coaches of NIT teams and writers that he would like to see something done about the advantage of the home court to college teams.

"There's no doubt about it basketball is a 'home' court game—the advantage is terrific at home," he said. "I don't know why. Maybe it's the partial crowd and the atmosphere. At any rate, something should be done to neutralize the situation. And the only remedy I know is the neutral court."

Reds Defeat Bucs 5-2 On 4-Hitter

FT. MYERS, Fla. (AP)—Two Cincinnati pitchers held Pittsburgh to four hits Monday as the Reds whipped the Pirates 5-2 in a spring training game.

Southpaw Pat Scantlebury gave up two of them, both singles. He was relieved in the sixth by right-hander Jack Taylor who gave up the only other two Pirate hits when Lee Walls singled and scored on a home run by Dale Long in the seventh. Taylor then retired the next batters in order.

The Reds got all their runs in the first two innings off seven walks, a wild pitch and four hits, including a double by Bob Hazle, Cincinnati (N) ... 200 000 000—5 8 0

Strong Veteran Northeast Track Team To Open 9-Meet Slate Against Fremont

By RON SPEER

Star Sports Staff Member
Lettermen in every track and field event except the pole vault bolster the Northeast Rocket's cinder hopes for the 1956 season which opens Friday when the Rockets entertain Fremont.

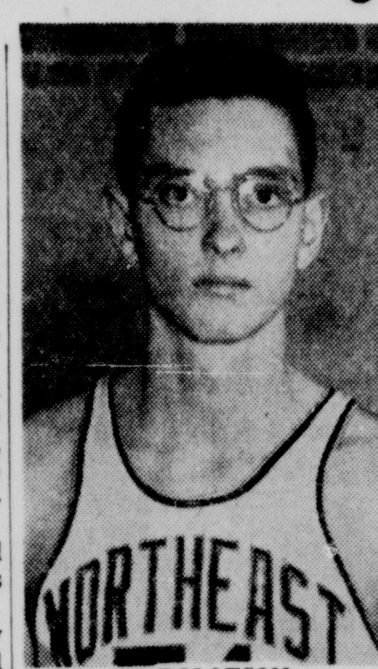

Coach Max Hester has 10 veterans and a host of promising newcomers who will bid for points in the nine-meet schedule facing the Rockets.

One of the Northeast lettermen already has a prep track title under his belt. George Rolofson, senior distance man, is the state champion in the prep cross-country run held in the fall.

Rolofson will run the mile and in the mile relay for Northeast this spring.

Two experienced hands — Gary Larson and Don Peterson — will be available for duty in the 880-yard run. Gary Brown, who has earned letters in football and basketball this year, is the only letterman in the weight events. He will toss both the shot and discus.

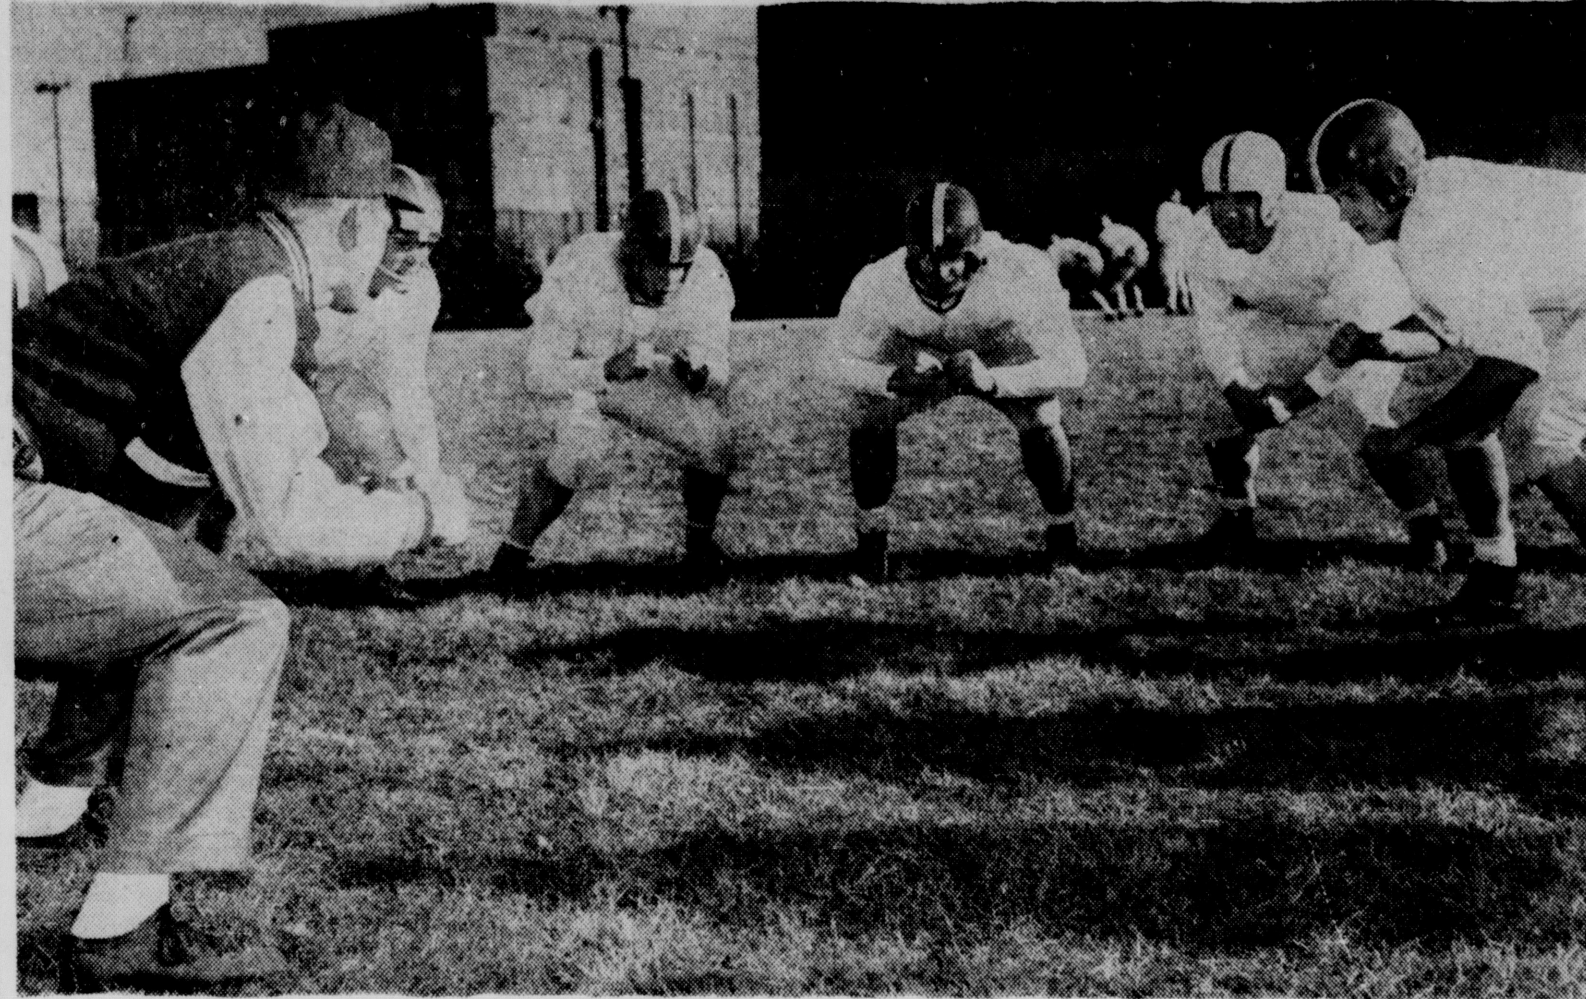

Lettermen Gene Samuelson will carry the Black and White colors in the sprints and also run in the 880-yard relay. Bob Els and Jim

ROLIFSON

Fox are veterans who will high jump for the Rockets. Els also runs the hurdles and in the mile relay, and Fox is a broad jumper.

Other lettermen are Don Dean and John Irwin, who run in the 880 and mile relays, and Harold Heiser, the only veteran running the 440-yard dash. Heiser is also bid-

Agility Drill Opens Husker Grid Practice

Nebraska football Coach Pete Elliott begins his chores as Husker mentor by tutoring spring grid candidates in an "agility drill." Nocero Gets Easy Nod Over Wide-Open Algerian Fighter

NEW YORK (AP)—Brooklyn's Rinzi Nocero scored effectively with punches to the head of wide open Said Khelifa of Algeria Monday night to win a unanimous decision at St. Nicholas Arena. Nocero weighed 164, Khelifa 169½. The two subbed for featherweights Miguel Berrios and Bobby Bell in the television feature.

Berrios was forced out by a bad cold and Matchmaker Tex Sullivan could not find another featherweight to oppose Bell on short notice.

The votes, all for Nocero, were: Referee Barney Felix 6-3-1, Judge Leo Birnbaum 7-2-1, and Judge

Frank Fullam 8-2. The AP card had Nocero ahead 7-3.

Nocero, 3 inches shorter than the 5-11 foreigner, found it easy to nail Khelifa with blows to the head. The Algerian kept his hands low at the start and they were much lower at the finish as Khelifa tired.

Khelifa was cut slightly over the right eye in the sixth round and the cut opened wider in the last round from a right-hand smash. Late in the seventh Khelifa dropped his hands to his side and was belted a stiff right to the jaw that shook him up.

Boldebuck MVC Scoring Champ

ST. LOUIS (INS)—Houston's seven-foot center Don Boldebuck and Bill Ebben of Detroit are the official basketball scoring champions of the Missouri Valley Conference.

In overall season play, including post-season tournaments, Ebben was the No. 1 point-maker. He scored 591 points in 25 games for a 23.8 average. Runnerup was Boldebuck with 556, a 21.4 average.

Boldebuck, who led the Cougars to a 9-3 league record and their first Valley basketball title, was the MVC scoring king. "Big Bolde" tallied 287 points for a 23.9 average. Ebben was second in the Valley with 263 points and a 21.9 average.

Nats Tip Celtics 101-98, Tie Series

SYRACUSE N.Y. (AP)—The Syracuse Nationals hung on for a series-squaring victory over the Boston Celtics Monday night 101-98 in their best-of-3 opening playoff round in the National Basketball Assn. With the series tied 1-1, the deciding contest will be played Wednesday night in Boston.

Although Bob Cousy again had a brilliant night, racking up 28 points to go with the 29 he scored Saturday, his teammates in Boston's big three—Bill Sharman and Ed Macauley—weren't in their usual form. Sharman got only 8 points, and Macauley 3.

John Kerr paced the Nats with 23 points, as Syracuse broke out of a 53-50 halftime lead and jumped ahead by as much as 14 points in the third period. Then the Nats barely managed to stave off Boston's closing rally, which brought the visitors to within 3 points.

He has since lost and regained the title three times. He now campaigns in the junior heavyweight and heavyweights divisions and has won and surrendered the junior heavy crown three times and the Texas heavyweight championship twice.

The match is for 2 of 3 falls with a 60-minute time limit.

The "new German Oak" Fritz Von Ulm, 235-pounder from Germany, will meet Steve McGill of Omaha in the first of two semi-windup events. The McGill-Von Ulm match will be a 2-of-3 falls, 45-minute limit event.

The other match will pit Red McIntyre, 234-pounder from Orville, Mo., against Dan Plechas, 240 pounds, of Omaha.

Sgt. Bob Richard will be referee for the card.

Others earning Coach Hester's praise are Gene Dittenber (shot put, low hurdles and 880-yard relay); Don Nelson (shot put and discus); Ron Schwartz (shot put and discus); Stan Loos (sprints and 880-yard relay); Dave Bauer (sprints, 880-yard relay and broad jump); Fred Ulrich (440-yard dash and mile relay); Bob Barry, (440-yard dash and mile relay); Andy Bandars (high jump and hurdles); and Jack Giebelhaus (440-yard dash and mile relay).

March 23—Fremont: 29—Quadrangular (Blair, Ashland and Southeast) at North-east.

April 6—At Beatrice: 14—"Dutch" White Relays at Omaha Tech; 19—Mid-East Conference; Meet at Fairbury; 27—City Meet at Webster.

7 Members Of NU Faculty Win Honors

Seven University of Nebraska faculty members were among the 24 persons receiving honor awards at the Nebraska Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation convention in North Platte this weekend.

They were elected in recognition of their outstanding service to the profession.

The recipients were Dr. Dudley Ashton, chairman of the department of physical education for women; Mrs. Elvera V. Berck, Mrs. Ruth Levinson and Miss Clara Rausch, assistant professors of physical education for women; Dr. Carlos L. Wear, associate professor of physical education for men; Dr. R. G. Clapp, professor of physical education for men; and Dr. Mable Lee, professor of physical education for women, emeritus.

This is the first year the state association has presented honor awards. This resulted in the large number of persons being honored.

The new president of the state association is Dorothy Hanpeter, assistant professor of physical education for women.

Berry-DiBiase Bout Tonight

Wild Red Berry, one of the first professional rasslers to appear on television, will meet Mike DiBiase in the main event of the Fairgrounds Arena card tonight. The first match will begin at 8:30.

Berry won the middleweight championship of Kansas after 18 professional bouts, broke both hands and retired from the game. He returned to the ring later and in 1937 won the light heavyweight title.

He has since lost and regained the title three times. He now campaigns in the junior heavyweight and heavyweights divisions and has won and surrendered the junior heavy crown three times and the Texas heavyweight championship twice.

The match is for 2 of 3 falls with a 60-minute time limit.

The "new German Oak" Fritz Von Ulm, 235-pounder from Germany, will meet Steve McGill of Omaha in the first of two semi-windup events. The McGill-Von Ulm match will be a 2-of-3 falls, 45-minute limit event.

The other match will pit Red McIntyre, 234-pounder from Or-

Yanks Smash Braves 11 To 1

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—The New York Yankees crashed 18 hits, 9 of them for extra bases, in a 11-1 slaughter of the Milwaukee Braves Monday.

Norm Siebern, Joe Collins and Bill Skowron homered and there were six doubles in the heaviest batting attack by the American League champions this spring. A crowd of 3,906 looked on.

Gene Conley, Gene Bearden and Phil Paine took the flogging, with Conley being cracked for 10 hits and 7 runs in 5 innings. In his previous appearance he had blanked the world champ Brooklyn Dodgers in three innings.

Don Larsen pitched a one-hitter in his five-round stay as starting pitcher for New York. Bill Bruton getting that in the third. Rookie Ralph Terry finished up, allowing two hits. The Braves scored in the sixth on a walk, Johnny Logan's double and an infield out.

Mickey Mantle, who is hitting .480, and Skowron, each made three hits and every Yankee, excepting the pitchers, got at least one.

Baltimore Rally Tips Giants 8-6

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles rallied for four runs in the seventh inning to overtake the New York Giants 8-6 in sunny, 80-degree weather Monday.

For the Giants, it was their fourth-straight defeat and the fifth in the last six games.

Jim Pisoni, rookie outfielder from San Antonio who led the Texas League in runs batted in with 118 last year, slammed two home runs, a single and a double to pace a 13-hit Baltimore attack.

Another Oriole rookie outfielder, Tito Francona, also homered.

A pair of left-handers, Bill Wight and Fred Besana, pitched for the Orioles and gave up 12 hits. Besana, working the last five innings, was credited with the victory.

Cage Coaches Like Present Penalty Rules

CHICAGO (AP)—Satisfaction over present basketball playing rules is the general feeling among the nation's coaches as they began arriving in Chicago Monday for a series of annual meetings.

The National Assn. of Basketball Coaches will open its 30th annual convention for three days Thursday, Paul Hinkle of Butler University is chairman of the National Basketball Rules Committee.

The committee will meet Saturday and Sunday. It is made up of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn., National Federation of High Schools, YMCA, Canadians and the AAU.

H. V. Porter of Chicago, secretary of the group, said that returns from 20,000 questionnaires "indicate a high degree of satisfaction with the current penalty rules."

"For the first time in three years there is little, if any, organized opposition to them," he added. "Even the five-second held ball rule, which was quite controversial early in the season, now is accepted with a high degree of approval."

Porter said the survey showed the five-second rule accomplished its purpose in making it somewhat easier for the defensive team to break up a "freeze."

Cubs Rally, Trip Cleveland, 9-5

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs scored six runs in the ninth inning Monday to defeat the Cleveland Indians 9-5 and end the Tribe's winning streak at seven games.

Frank Kellert, Monte Irvin and Bob McKee hit home runs to spark the rally against Marion Murszewski, rookie southpaw.

Ernie Banks hit a home run with two men on base in the first inning off Bob Feller and then Feller, Cal McLish and Murszewski pitched seven hitless innings before the Cubs broke the game wide open.

Rudy Regalado hit a home run and Sam Mele contributed two doubles as the Indians outthit the Cubs 11-8.

First Day Of NU Drill Featured By Hard Work

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Sunshine and hard work marked the opening of the University of Nebraska spring football drills Monday afternoon.

Head Coach Pete Elliott, very happy over the perfect weather, was greeted by 92 football players of assorted sizes.

There were 118 names on the spring roster, but six players were excused and 20 failed to put in an opening-day appearance.

Among those AWOL was Letterman lineman Jack Fleming of Kimball.

The Husker coaching staff—Elliott, Bill Jennings, Dee Andros, Don Scarbrough, Gene Stauber, L. F. (Pop) Klein, Bob Wagner and Bill Taylor—wasted no time in launching workouts designed to make better athletes of the aspirants and also separate the men from the boys.

Elliott said that the staff is very interested in "developing agility among the players" and the first-day drills gave an indication that a lot of stress will be put on that phase of the game.

One of the more rugged "agility drills" was called "Bull in the Ring," and featured one player in the middle of a circle of six other players who were assigned numbers.

The player in the middle had to keep moving around because a coach would call out a number and that man would charge at the "bull" and throw a shoulder block.

Since the blockers would be coming from all sides, the less alert middle men were fielding some rough jars in the back, side and front.

After an hour of this type of work with the individual groups (Backs, guards, tackles etc.), the Huskers spent another hour on some offensive maneuvers. Then the practice wound up with about 15 minutes of spot scrimmage.

"We hope to get in more scrimmage each day," Elliott said. "And we want to be able to have a full scrimmage Thursday so we can take movies to study during the spring vacation period."

The squad will work Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week and following vacation, the practices will be Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Spring drills will end April 28 with the Alumni-Varsity game on All Sports Day.

All practices will be open to the public, Elliott said.

The large squad was divided into teams Monday, but Elliott said there was no particular significance to the ranking.

"We put the boys who have had some experience near the top, but that doesn't mean they'll stay there," he said. "There'll be a lot of changes."

Monday's top lineup had Bill Hawkins and Don Marlin Hilding at ends, Don Kampe and Jerry Wheeler at tackles, LaVerne Torczon and Don Rhoda at guards, Bob Berguin at center, George Harshman at quarterback, Lyle Martin and Larry Navaux at halfbacks and Jerry Brown at fullback.

Excused to compete with the baseball team are Willie Greenlaw, Don Erway and Frank Nappi. Hawkins will divide his time between football and track.

Podres OKd For Navy Duty, Sent To Bainbridge

By WILL GRIMSLEY
NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Podres, the young miner's son who pitched the Brooklyn Dodgers to their first World Series championship last fall, became just another of Uncle Sam's sailor boys Monday.

Once declared unfit because of a back ailment, the 23-year-old lefthander passed his induction physical examination at New York's Armed Services Building and immediately was assigned to the Bainbridge, Md., naval center for basic training.

Bainbridge has produced some potent sports teams in the past. An hour and a half after the induction by Maj. Edward N. Kaplan, Podres was hustled to the naval induction center on Broadway to take his formal vows.

In Fine Spirits
Johnny, in fine spirits, said he would spend the night at the barracks at Brooklyn Navy Yard and probably report to Bainbridge today.

"I've got to spend my time in service the same as anybody else," the stocky, blonde youth from Witherbee N.Y., said, declining to enter into the controversy stirred up by Ted Williams over draft boards.

Williams, Boston Red Sox star was called back to duty five years ago after serving in World War II, said Podres was a victim of the draft because of his World Series fame. Williams called draft boards and selective service officials "gutless."

Podres, who has been working out with the Dodgers at their Vero Beach, Fla., camp, looked fit and tanned. He wore a dark gray suit, blue overcoat, loafer sandals and no hat.

"I hope I get to play some baseball while in service," he commented, "I'd certainly like to keep in shape."

The Brooklyn pitcher talked pleasantly about baseball with fellow inductees and newsmen and showed no great concern over the rather poor spring showing of the Dodgers, who have won three games and lost six.

"We were bad in spring training last year and won the pennant," he said.

Selection Near For Buff Cage Coach

BOULDER, Colo. (INS)—Colorado University Athletic Director Harry Carlson said Monday announcement of the selection of a new basketball coach for the Big Seven school will be made sometime this week.

Carlson completed a series of interviews with candidates for the post Monday when he conferred with Jack Heldman, an assistant coach at Vanderbilt University.

Colorado Cage Coach H. B. (Bebe) Lee, a graduate of Stanford, has accepted the athletic directorship at Kansas State College and will take over the job next month.

Links' Track Squad Boasts 11 Lettermen

Andy Matison, who will be shooting for the 50-foot mark in the shot put this spring, is among 11 Lincoln High lettermen on the Link track squad.

Matison, regular center on the Lincoln High basketball team, tossed the iron ball more than 49 feet last year, but his efforts were overshadowed by record-breaking performances by others in the event. This year he should share the limelight.

Coach Harold Scott has issued equipment to 65 cindermen. Other top veterans include Dean Sell, three-sport athlete who may develop into one of the top half-milers in the state. A senior, Sell is a versatile performer. He competes in the 880-yard run, the hurdles and in the relay.

George Porter, who won the prep cross-country run as a junior but lost to city rival George Roloffson of Northeast last spring, handles the mile chores for the Links. Bob Elliott, who lettered as a sophomore but did not compete last year, is also a mile veteran.

Joe Gacusan, stellar footballer and swimmer, will be bidding for points in the weights and the 440-yard dash.

Ron Galois and Gus Talaz are the lettermen in the dash events. Galois also runs on the relay team and Talaz broad jumps and competes in the weights.

Bill Swanson is Coach Scott's only pole vault veteran. Dick Jacobs, another footballer, runs the hurdles, 440-yard dash and the 880-yard run and Carl True competes in the 880 and the quarter.

The Links will stage their interclass meet March 26-29 to open the cinder season.

SCHEDULE
March 26-29—Inter-Class Meet.
April 6—North Platte Invitational.
April 12—Central Nebraska Meet at Hastings.
April 16—Boys Town 27-City Meet at Weir.

May 4—District Meet 11-12—State Meet.
15—Grand Island Relays 17-18—Lincoln High School Pentathlon.

Lakers Tip Hawks In 133-75 Ramble

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The Minneapolis Lakers blustered the St. Louis Hawks with a 133-75 defeat here Monday night to crack two National Basketball Assn. records and square the Western Division playoff series at a game apiece.

The 50-point slaughter marked the most decisive margin in NBA annals and was engineered by 10 Lakers who set another loop mark by all hitting in double figures.

Dugie Martin tallied 19 points to lead the victory as the Lakers rocketed to a 61-30 halftime lead. They added another 72 points in the final half.

St. Louis, which had opened the best-of-3 playoff with a 116-115 triumph Saturday night on their home court, was able to collect only 22 field goals, exactly half the Laker total. Minneapolis dominated the backboards all the way through.

The veterans are: Weaver, 440; Werner, sprints; Linscott, Bachman and Apel, 880; Gaitner and James, milers; Jerry Collier, high jump; Zentner, weights and Malcolm and Faller, hurdlers.

Among the promising newcomers to track at Falls City are: Lunsford, Poage, T. Brown, B. Brown, Harper, Still, Curnes and Stitzer.

The schedule:
March—24, Omaha University Indoor Meet; 30, Open date.
April—7, Tarkio Tri-State; 10, Nebraska City Invitational; 20, Southwest Conference at Auburn; 26, Twin Rivers Confer-

KU Frosh Nip Huskers In Big 7 Postal

Kansas won the Big Seven freshman postal track meet, edging out Nebraska by 2½ points, it was announced Monday.

Keith Gardner, versatile NU freshman from Jamaica, scored 24 of Nebraska's 41½ points. Kansas won the meet with 44.

The Jamaica Jet won the 60-yard high hurdles, the 440 yard dash, and the broad jump. He tied for first in the 60-yard dash and the 60-yard low hurdles.

Benny Dillard tied for third in the 60-yard dash, Duane Smith was second in the high jump, Ken Pollard was third in the pole vault, Dillard was third in the broad jump and Charles Wollaston was fourth in the broad jump.

The Husker relay team composed of Gardner, Don House, Dan Farington and Bob Miller finished third in 3:27. The summary:

60-yard dash—Tie for 1st and 2nd between Keith Gardner (N) and Charles Tidwell (K); tie for 3rd, 4th and 5th among Chuck Carlson (C), Henry Wiebe (M), Benny Dillard (N) and John Pellow (O). Time—56.5.

60-yard low hurdles—Tie for 1st and 2nd between Gardner (N) and Tidwell (K); tie for 3rd, 4th and 5th among Bill Tillman (K) and Green (O). Time—1:07.4.

440-yard dash—Won by Gardner (N); 2—Carlson (C); tie for 3rd and 4th between Robert Spekreijse (C) and DeLoe Dodds (KS); 5—Jim Veder (KS). Time—1:49.8.

880-yard run—Won by Clint Kelly (N); 2—Francis Green (KS); tie for 3rd and 4th between Dodds (KS) and Tom Rodda (KS). Time—5:22.1.

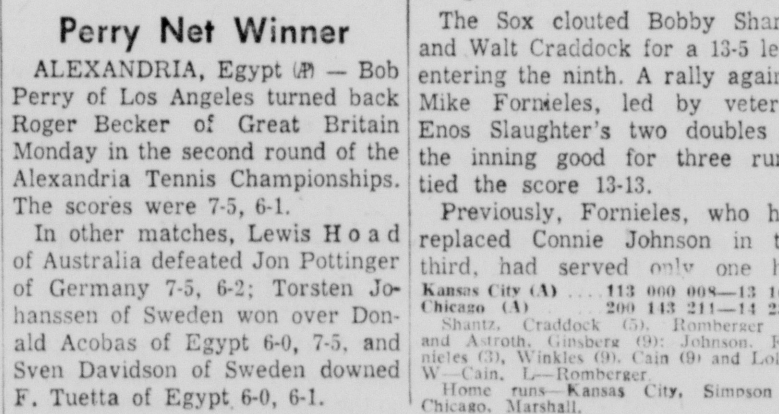

White Sox Fade But Tip Athletics

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox, manned chiefly by "B" team graduates, Monday yielded eight runs in the ninth inning to the Kansas City Athletics but still managed to win 14-13.

Among 23 hits the Sox collected was Sammy Esposito's single to score Jim Rivera, a pinch runner for Jim Marshall, for the decisive margin.

The Sox clouted Bobby Shantz and Walt Craddock for a 13-5 lead entering the ninth. A rally against Mike Fornieles, led by veteran Enos Slaughter's two doubles in the inning good for three runs, tied the score 13-13.

Previously, Fornieles, who had replaced Connie Johnson in the third, had served only one hit. Kansas City (A) ... 113 runs 60-12 16 2 Chicago (A) ... 200 143 211-14 23 2 Shantz, Craddock (C), Romberger (C) and Astrup (C) hit for 3rd and 4th between Dodds (KS) and Tom Rodda (KS). Home runs—Kansas City, Simpson 2, Chicago, Marshall.

Perry Net Winner
ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (AP)—Bob Perry of Los Angeles turned back Roger Becker of Great Britain Monday in the second round of the Alexandria Tennis Championships. The scores were 7-5, 6-1.

In other matches, Lewis Ho of Australia defeated Jon Pottinger of Germany 7-5, 6-2; Torsten Johansson of Sweden won over Donald Acobas of Egypt 6-0, 7-5, and Sven Davidson of Sweden downed F. Tuetta of Egypt 6-0, 6-1.

Bad Storm Hits Sport Schedules

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The snowstorm sweeping the East Coast forced postponement of two racing and two boxing cards Monday and gave miler Wes Santee another stay in his battle with the Amateur Athletic Union.

State Supreme Court Judge Walter A. Lynch was scheduled to resume the trial Monday in Santee's attempt to void a lifetime suspension imposed by the AAU.

But the case was put off until Tuesday when Charles P. Grimes, Santee's attorney, became a snow-bound at his home.

Meanwhile, Bowie Race Track in Maryland called off its day's racing schedule because of hazardous road conditions. A track spokesman said the same program would be run today, weather permitting.

At Lincoln Downs in Providence R. I., where racing already had been put off until Wednesday, it was decided to have no more action until Saturday.

Also at Providence, the scheduled fight between Tommy Tibbs of Boston and Denis (Pat) Brady of New York was canceled. The New England AAU Boxing Championships at Boston were postponed until a date to be set later.

Senators Defeat Red Sox By 8-6

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—The Washington Senators crashed 11 hits, five for extra bases, to offset a grand-slam homer by Boston's Billy Conso and defeat the Red Sox 8-6 Monday.

Washington scored three runs in the first inning on a walk, two singles and Roy Sievers' double. The Nats added another in the second on Herb Plews' single and a double by Bob Tietelbaum, who also had two other hits.

Conso, a high-priced bonus player, hit his four-run homer off Bob Wiesler in the fourth. The Sox also picked up another run in that frame.

Big Bend Damsite Study Funds Favored By Case

Senator Wants South Dakota Consumers Needs Met First

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Case (R-SD) says he will support a request for funds for an Army engineers' study of a likely site for the proposed Big Bend Dam on the Missouri River in South Dakota.

The dam is scheduled to be built somewhere between the present Oahe and Ft. Randall dams. The engineers have suggested that a location downstream from the original site be considered.

"I would favor the corps of engineers gathering the additional data that they need and doing the field work that would be necessary to evaluate both the old and the new damsites," Case said.

The senator's comment was made in a letter to Walter Swenson of the Chamberlain, S.D., Community Club, Inc., which Case made public.

He told Swenson:

"I have never said one word about it (Big Bend) to the budget bureau, the White House or the appropriation committees of either the House or the Senate. What consideration led the budget bureau to include further survey or planning money for it, I simply do not know."

Last summer Case said he would "not press for appropriations" for building Big Bend until "we get some plan officially approved or legislation passed that will make Big Bend power available to South Dakota consumers before it is all exported out of the state."

Explaining his position to Swenson, the senator said he is "not opposed" to the construction of Big Bend "as such." But he added:

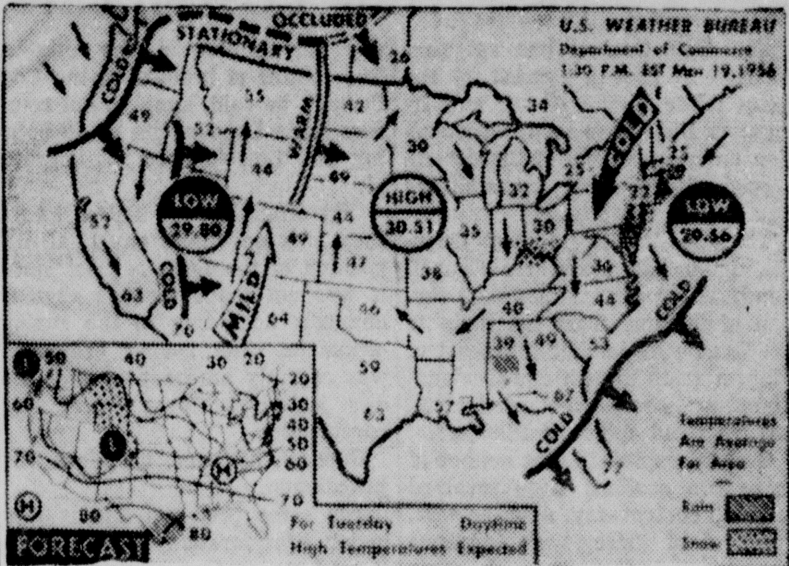

"I merely want to get some assurance that if we are to flood out more river bottoms in South Dakota, we will be given some of the power generated for consumers in South Dakota and not have all of it exported into Nebraska or other states."

Case continued:

"When Big Bend is authorized, I want to see preference maintained for the South Dakota preference customers (public bodies); I merely also want to see that we get some assurance of power for domestic and industrial consumers who do not happen to be served by public distributing agencies — and that means giving benefits of the low-cost hydro-generation to the consumers, and not to the distributing utilities, for that matter."

"In addition, I want to see some operating plan devised whereby the generator capacity existing in South Dakota preference bodies can (by contract with existing plants or creation of new ones) have access to standby generator facilities so that South Dakota can get the benefit of the even lower costs of dump and secondary power. I have in mind something like that used in the northwest power pool connected with the Bonneville Dam administration."

Most Of Nation Expects Fair Weather

Fair weather is forecast for Tuesday for much of the nation. Snow is expected for west Montana, Wyoming and Colorado, while rain is likely in Idaho and Oregon and Texas coasts. Warmer weather is expected east of the Rockies except for continued cold in the Northeast and colder in Florida. (AP Wirephoto Map.)

Representatives Of 19 States Will Attend Meat Conference

OMAHA (AP) — Representatives of 19 or more livestock producing states are expected here Wednesday to hear details of a meat promotion plan and perhaps lay the groundwork for putting it to work.

Farmers polled in the host states of Nebraska and Iowa have indicated their approval of the plan. A similar poll in Tennessee showed livestock men there in favor.

The idea is to levy between 2½ and 10 cents a head on livestock at the market. The money would finance a meat promotion campaign.

Promotion would be aimed at boosting meat sales and thereby giving a lift to producers in the troubled livestock industry.

Presidential Assistant Fred Seaton last week described the administration as "very enthusiastic" about the idea and called it an application of "American salesmanship."

Governors Leo Hoegh of Iowa and Victor Anderson of Nebraska backed the tests of sentiment of farmers in their states, and organized the Omaha meeting.

Twenty-four states were invited. Governors of between seven and 10 are expected with a majority of the others sending representatives.

If the promotion idea is accepted by the meeting, representatives probably will be asked to organize top meat people in their states to sell it and provide whatever framework is necessary to put it to work.

Backers think the plan could be in operation in a year or less.

States expected for the meeting include, besides Iowa and Nebraska, South Dakota, Kansas, Missouri, Minnesota, Kentucky, Illinois, Wyoming, Wisconsin, Ohio, Indiana, Colorado, Tennessee, Texas, Idaho, Utah, Montana, and Oklahoma.

Crete School Workers Are Back On Job

Lincoln Star Special

CRETE, Neb. — Work was resumed Monday on the construction of the new Crete High School building.

Pickets, who appeared Thursday and Friday, caused a stoppage of work Friday. The pickets were set up by the American Federation of Labor International Hod Carriers and Labor Union, Local 110, of Nebraska.

Although both the contractor and the union maintained the picket line did not constitute a strike, bricklayers would not cross the line and work came to a standstill.

Ralph Snowball, foreman for the contractors Busom and Raub of Salina, Kan., said that it was likely the picketing might be started again this week.

A spokesman for local 110 said the action was an attempt for higher wages and better working conditions.

David Osterhout, president of the Crete Board of Education, said the one day work stoppage did not hamper the construction schedule.

U.S. Aid Needed For Local Mental Health

Googe Will Apply For Funds For $20,000 City-County Plan

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

A request for federal aid from the U.S. Public Health Service for setting up a Division of Mental Health in the City-County Health Department will be made by Dr. James T. Googe, director.

The division would be made up of a director and a psychiatric team worker. The expenditure, Dr. Googe said, would be about $20,400 a year.

The request for the funds would have to be channeled through the State Health Department.

The move by the health director is one, he says, in a general over-all attempt to improve public health service to citizens in both the city and county.

Aspects of the Division of Mental Health, as outlined by Dr. Googe, include:

Reduction in number of persons committed to mental hospitals. This would result, Dr. Googe says, in a lower cost in the long run of treatment of such patients in state hospitals.

Enabling larger number of patients to be released from mental hospitals. This could be brought about by greater work in helping such patients rehabilitate back to their homes after treatment.

Stay Reduction
Reduction in average stay of patients in mental hospitals.

Enabling large numbers of "border-line psychiatric" cases to achieve better adjustment to their environment.

Dr. Googe said "we would like to achieve this as soon as we can, although it will take awhile to get the activities of that division in gear, and working with maximum effect."

The health director noted there are some six or seven times as many "border-line psychiatric" cases as there are patients now being cared for in hospitals for mental disease.

A city-county mental health activity working with the health department could aid in cutting down this number, Dr. Googe said.

Statistically, there were 555 persons from the city and county in tax-supported institutions as of last January 1, according to health department records.

Garage Fire Ignited From Nearby Bonfire

A garage fire between 27th and 29th south of W Monday caused slight damage to the roof of the structure, fire department officials said.

Officials said the fire was caused by paper from a bonfire adjacent to the garage blowing onto it.

Two False Alarms

Firemen answered a false alarm at 521 So. 14th at 11 p.m. Monday. A local ambulance firm reported to police that they had been called to the same address 15 minutes earlier in a telephone hoax.

$472,000 In Bond Issue Authorized

Ordinances have been introduced and given third and final readings by the City Council to authorize issuance of $472,000 in special improvement district bonds.

There will be $365,000 in one to ten year paving bonds and $107,000 bonds. All bonds will be dated Feb. 1, 1956.

Other ordinances given third and final reading:

Water district in Locust 32nd to 53rd. Water district in Y. 68th to 70th. Orchard 69th to 70th. Dudley 68th to 70th. 70th. Y to Starr. Paving of 40th. Aylesworth to Colby. Plat of Bryan View at 46th and Monawk. Plat of Peterson's re-plat at 46th and Van Dorn.

Next Monday Set For Hearing On Controversial Power Line

The City Council has set next Monday to hear a request by the Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District to begin construction on two sections of the controversial 115,000-volt transmission line around the city.

Through Attorney Robert Guenzel, Loup has asked for Council approval for construction of a section of the line from the tie-in to the Omaha feeder line northeast of Lincoln south to 84th and Garland. The second section requested would run from 2nd and M to Pioneers.

Guenzel explained that neither of these two sections were involved in much controversy. Also, he said, approval of these two sections would provide the city with some additional power and yet not commit the city regarding the route for the remainder of the line.

Property owners over much of the rest of the proposed route, to the south and east of the city, have vigorously objected to construction of the high voltage electric line. The line and accompanying 100 foot high steel towers would form a fence around the city, objectors have said, and would stop residential development near their property.

'Courtesy'
According to Guenzel, Loup does not admit that the city has any jurisdiction in the matter. The matter is brought to the City Council, he said, simply as a courtesy since Loup wants to do nothing that Lincoln does not approve of.

City officials have stated that they may not make any final disposition of the Loup request since it was not made through regular channels according to the zoning ordinance. The zoning ordinance was recently amended to give the city jurisdiction over power line construction.

Guenzel, however, questions this jurisdiction.

The same proposed line is also under consideration by the State Railway Commission, where objections were made at a public hearing on the question.

Power officials have spoken of a serious power shortage in Lincoln this summer if the line is not constructed.

City officials stated that even the small section of the line in northeast Lincoln would probably provide enough extra power to avert serious shortages this summer. However, they added, the entire line will certainly be needed within a very short time.

End clogged-up nose sleep better tonight

Thousands find this method keeps nose clear all night long

Dry or dusty air, "smog," a head cold, overheated room, allergy . . . all can cause night nose clogging, spoiling your sleep and forcing you into harmful mouth breathing.

Thousands have found that Mentholatum quickly ends this annoying problem. Just apply Mentholatum in each nostril at bedtime. Instantly your nose feels clearer and, during the night, Mentholatum's soothing action relieves that dry, stuffy feeling. Congestion eases and you breathe normally through your nose.

Why Mouth Breathing is Harmful
When a clogged nose forces you to breathe through your mouth, you send chilled dry air, laden with dust and germs, directly into your lungs. This and snoring, of course, go hand in hand. Mentholatum in the nose at night ends harmful mouth breathing.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.* Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Soviets, U.S. And Canadians Study Franco-British Disarmament Plan

... First American Reaction Favorable

LONDON — A comprehensive British-French disarmament plan was being studied by Russia, the United States and Canada Monday night. First reaction from American negotiators here appeared generally favorable.

The plan was submitted earlier Monday at the opening of new talks by the U. N. Disarmament subcommittee. It was referred immediately to Washington. Details of the proposals remained secret.

The American delegation, led by Harold Stassen, President Eisenhower's adviser on disarmament matters, seemed friendly to the plan. But they withheld full approval, suggesting some points needed clarification.

Gromyko Attentive
Andrei A. Gromyko, a Russian first deputy foreign minister and head of the Soviet delegation, listened attentively as the British-French proposals were read by Jules Moch, head of the French negotiators.

Gromyko expressed no opinion after Moch finished. He said merely that he needed time to study the plan. It was drawn up in considerable detail.

But there was an atmosphere of cautious optimism after negotiators finished their two-hour session in Lancaster House, an ornate mansion near Buckingham Palace.

The meeting, 60th in a series held by the subcommittee in the past three years, was at least superficially harmonious.

American sources explained the general ideas of the British-French proposals were outlined to U. S. delegation members during preliminary talks last week with Britain, France and Canada.

In the final draft presented by Moch, however, there was new matter of some substance and referral to Washington was considered essential.

There will be no session Tuesday. The next meeting was scheduled for Wednesday afternoon. By then the American delegation hopes to have guidance from Washington and Moscow also may have made suggestions.

Stassen read President Eisenhower's letter on disarmament sent to Russian Premier Nikolai

Bulganin early this month. The U. S. delegation chief said this letter remains the basis of American thought on disarmament questions. Stassen said the United States will have other suggestions to make. He made clear the United States had several reservations about the British-French plan. But he promised the American delegation would give thorough study to these proposals and any other suggestions that might be submitted.

Youths Hurt In Car-Truck Wreck

Two young people, Don England, 20, of 2544 No. 60th and Carol Leslie, 19, Poute 1, suffered slight injuries in a car-truck collision at 29th and Q Monday evening.

England, driver of the car that was going north on 29th, suffered bruises to his leg, ribs and shoulder. His companion, Carol, a passenger in the car, suffered leg bruises. Neither was hospitalized. The driver of the truck, Alfred Makobicka, 27, of 2811 Dudley said he was going east on Q at the time of the collision.

The impact of the collision forced the car over the northeast curb at the intersection.

Oregon College League Young GOPs Endorse Hitchcock Over McKay

PORTLAND, Ore. — The executive board of the Oregon College League of Young Republicans has endorsed Philip Hitchcock for Republican nomination to the Senate over Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay.

It was the first primary election endorsement by the league and reversed an earlier decision—reached before candidates filed—to stay out of the primaries.

Hitchcock, a member of Portland's Lewis and Clark College development staff, is opposed for the nomination by McKay and two other lesser known candidates.

Sen. Wayne Morse is expected to be the Democratic candidate.

The board, whose endorsement now goes to the 11 college chapters in the state, gave no explanation of its decision to choose sides in the primary. The league is a separate organization within the State Young Republican Federation.

Boston, Mass. (Special)—New promise of relief for women who suffer tortures of monthly cramps and nervous tension is found in an amazing new tablet... developed especially to relieve this female discomfort. It offers greater relief than aspirin during that distressing period each month!

Doctors report remarkable results. For 3 out of 4 women tested, pain and cramps were stopped or strikingly relieved. Even on the first day, many had no nagging headaches, no backaches or other functionally-caused distress...

The new tablet contains not just one or two ingredients but a unique combination of special medicines. That's why this new discovery offers more relief than plain aspirin! Unlike such "general-purpose" remedies, it acts on the cause of distress. Has amazing power to calm uterine contractions, also works through a woman's sympathetic nervous system. Called "Lydia Pinkham's Tablets," the formula was developed by the world's largest manufacturer devoted exclusively to relief of women's ailments! Easy-to-take new Pinkham's Tablets are now available at all drug stores without a prescription.

So don't suffer needlessly. Take Pinkham's Tablets yourself. See if you don't feel worlds better this very month. See if you don't escape much of the irritability and discomfort—both before and during those "difficult days." (For liquid form, ask for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.)

Only NUTRI-TONIC permanent waves deep down—yet gentler in little as 10 minutes

AND HERE'S WHY: a full 1/3 is patented Oil Creme base (HOMOGENIZED)

Nutri-Tonic IS different because 1/3 is patented Oil Creme base which brings you benefits other permanents can't give. Benefits such as these...

SOFTER, MORE NATURAL-LOOKING CURLS—Nutri-Tonic's oil-rich creaminess (homogenized) helps protect your hair's natural texture and luster while waving so much gentler. That's why your curls are softer, more natural-looking from the moment first combed out!

ONLY NUTRI-TONIC GIVES DEEP-DOWN WAVING The fantastic new Customizer, developed by Nutri-Tonic, causes more thorough waving deep inside hairshaft—clear through the hair. Naturally, your curls are firmer, last longer.

WAVES IN LITTLE AS 10 MINUTES—Also gives fastest permanent, start to finish, because of Nutri-Tonic's patented Oil Creme base—and exclusive deep-down waving. And—so easy to do!

Try it and you'll know why millions are switching to oil-rich Nutri-Tonic. See all it does for you so quickly, easily, gently.

Democrats Blamed For 'Embarrassing Tactics' On Farm Bill

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Rep. R. D. Harrison (R-Neb) charged Monday that the Democrats "want to embarrass" the Eisenhower administration by delaying and hamstringing the farm bill now being debated.

The Nebraskan said Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.), in particular, has been trying to "gum the works."

Harrison predicted it may be the first of May before the bill reaches the President and even then, will be "so loaded down with amendments that the President will have to veto it."

"If Republicans were in control of Congress, the farm bill would be passed by now and on the President's desk," the Norfolk congressman said. The prospects are for delay until after November, he added.

"Give Eisenhower a Republican Congress," Harrison urged. "Congress is being blamed for a bad farm situation, but it is a Democratic, not a Republican Congress. Let's let the farmers know where the blame rests."

Decision Soon
On Ike State
Primary Entry

Presidential Assistant Fred A. Seaton said Monday that "the decision will be made shortly" as to whether or not President Eisenhower's name will be entered in the Nebraska primary.

The filing deadline is April 15 and the election is May 15.

Pointing out that 100 signatures from each of the four congressional districts is required to enter a name in the state's preferential primary, Seaton said the work would be done through the regular party organization.

In Lincoln for Founders Day, Seaton said he found most Nebraskans "want" Mr. Eisenhower.

He pointed out the Nebraska preferential vote is not binding on delegates, but merely informative as to the preference of the voters.

Seaton, a Hastings publisher and former U.S. Senator, said the President's name is being entered in primaries in those states where the vote is binding.

However, Seaton said if the Eisenhower name is entered, Nebraskans would have the opportunity "to register their approval of the President and his program" and it would "give the campaign a lift."

Seaton felt that while Nebraska farmers are not happy about their economic situation, they would by a big majority support the President and his policies.

Omaha $25-Plate
Meet May 31st
Slates Knowland

A $25-a-plate Republican Party fund raising dinner will be held May 31 at Omaha's city auditorium with Sen. William Knowland of California, Republican minority leader, as speaker.

Ted H. Maenner of Omaha made the announcement Monday in a speech acknowledging his election as new GOP national committeeman for Nebraska at the party's pre-primary convention in Lincoln.

Ticket sales, which Maenner said was hoped would reach 4,000 du-cats, will be credited to county organizations after expenses.

No 3rd Term

SEOUL (Tuesday) (INS)—President Syngman Rhee reiterated his recent announcement he would not seek a third term and said he favored a "younger" South Korean chief executive to whom he could give "moral support."

The ROK President, who will celebrate his 81st birthday next Monday, made his remarks to a huge crowd at Korea's southeast port city of Pusan where he was visiting.

STOP SCALP
ITCH

Glover's Mange Medicine stops itchy scalp, removes ugly, loose dandruff scales, arrests falling hair. Unlike hair tonics and dressings, Glover's is a real medicine made like a doctor's prescription. Contains sulphur, tars and soothing oils that really stimulate the scalp and cleanse away scales. Try Glover's 60-second Mange Medicine tonight—then shampoo. You'll see and feel your hair and scalp COMPLETELY REVITALIZED. Itch is gone. Dandruff is checked. Hair stops coming out because your scalp can "breathe" again. Glover's Mange Medicine at all druggists. Money back guarantee.

One Of Six

Harrison was one of six speakers before the State Republican Founders Day luncheon in Lincoln.

The turnout proved so unexpectedly large that it overflowed the Lincoln Hotel ballroom and additional tables had to be hurriedly set up in another assembly room. Founders Day Chairman Joe Wishart estimated the crowd at "near 1,000."

Also heard were Fred A. Seaton, presidential assistant, Gov. Victor Anderson, and Reps. A. L. Miller, Phil Weaver and Jackson B. Chase.

Rep. Miller, too, charged that the Democrats have "sabotaged" the President's farm program "and will drag out the bill in house and conference so that no benefit can come to the farmer this year."

Heel Draggers
Miller termed the Democrat-controlled Congress a "heel-dragging" Congress.

The Democrats, he charged, want to "investigate rather than legislate." They want to find out why "America has been so prosperous," he added.

Seaton who had earlier keynoted the pre-primary convention, said that when Republicans, in this campaign, talk about "peace, prosperity and people," they will be talking about principles "which make Mr. Eisenhower tick."

Seaton also predicted that Eisen-

Oil Firm Sets Up
NU Fund For 5
$500 Scholarships

The Champlin Refining Company of Ft. Worth, Tex., has established a scholarship fund through the University of Nebraska Foundation which will finance five $500 scholarships each year at the University, Perry W. Branch, Foundation director-secretary, announced.

Known as the "Champlin Refining Company Scholarship Fund," the $2,500 yearly fund will support scholarships in the College of Engineering and Architecture, College of Business Administration and/or department of geology.

The recipients must be juniors who have maintained a satisfactory scholastic record, show promise of future success, and are worthy of financial assistance.

Recipients who have successfully completed their junior year will be eligible for a renewal of the scholarships in their senior years.

The University's General Scholarship Committee will make the selections from nominations made by the deans of the two colleges and the chairman of the department of geology.

Carpet Traffic Lanes Removed

Do you have a traffic lane? It's that beat down section of your beautiful carpet that has received the heaviest wear.

To preserve the "new all over" look, those traffic lanes must be eliminated, so apply Blue Lustre carpet cleaner with an easy to use long handle brush. The colors will spring out fresh and bright with the nap open and fluffy to blend with the unsoiled sections of your carpet.

One-half gallon of Blue Lustre concentrate cleans three 9 x 12 rugs.

hower would leave as a heritage of his administration "the foundations of an enduring peace."

Gov. Anderson, describing the party in Nebraska as a "strong organization, said the "only way the opposition can break us up is if we break up ourselves and divide ourselves."

Real Progress

The governor said he has tried to give the state a "common sense" administration. "Real progress" on roads is being made, the penal institutions, despite some trouble, are "in better condition than ever," he explained.

Rep. Weaver reviewed the status of the fight to prevent the Lincoln Veterans Hospital from being transferred to the Air Force.

No decision has been reached, Weaver reported, adding he is "confident" the hospital will continue under the Veterans Administration.

Rep. Chase, who is not seeking re-election, urged party members "keep your eyes on the main issues — preservation of an honorable and enduring peace and the maintenance of the industrial economy at home."

Some may disagree on the minor budget and road legislation, but all will be "behind Ike 100 per cent on the major issues."

Senators Roman Hruska and Carl Curtis, kept in Washington by the Senate debate on the farm bill, sent greetings through designated representatives.

Vice President Nixon, billed for the Founders Day evening address, was also kept in Washington in case of a crucial Senate vote on the farm bill.

Leisurely

CHICAGO (INS) — Three leisurely handits took time out during the holdup of a southwest side Chicago tavern to drink several bottles of beer as they searched for valuables.

Mrs. Helen Skarzewski, 60, owner of Helen's tavern said the trio took $777 from the cash register and jewelry and whisky worth $470.
